Chinese Accept League Shanghai Peace Plan All Japan Troops To Evacuate Area "In Near Future"

Resolution Drafted at Geneva By League Committee of Nineteen Accepted By Government at Nanking

JAPAN OPPOSES MIXED COMMITTEE

Nanking, April 20.—The Chinese government has decided to accept the draft resolution on withdrawal of troops from the Shanghai area prepared by the League of Nations committee of nineteen, a Foreign Office spokesman announced today.

Dr. W. W. Yen, China's representative in the League Council, has been instructed accordingly.

The League of Nations committee of nineteen, representing that many member governments, adopted a resolution yesterday asking Japan to complete evacuation of the Shanghai area in the near future.

JAPANESE ATTITUDE
Tokio, April 20.—It was stated on good authority today that Japan will not agree to the draft resolution of the League of Nations committee of nineteen dealing with the Japanese-Chinese dispute and will object to any provision permitting a mixed committee to fix the date for withdrawal of Japanese troops from Shanghai.

The War Office today fixed 205,000,000 yen as the amount of the supplementary military estimates the government intend to introduce at the special session of the Diet which will convene May 23. The estimates are to cover the cost of the military operations in Manchuria and at Shanghai from June 1, 1932, to March 31, 1933.

Building at New High This Month
Figures supplied by Building Inspector James Barf show that building in the city for April in value will surpass the first three months of the year. Up to today permits worth a total value of $28,382 had been taken out, the majority being for home construction. This is higher than the amounts of any of the first three months.

Permit was taken out this morning for a seven-room structure at 1043 Kensington Street, which will be built or A. B. Williams. The approximate cost is $3,800.

Montreal, April 20.—The pound sterling was quoted at $4.18 1/2 in local foreign exchange deals at 3 p.m. today.

Oath Abolition Bill Is Before Irish Dail

Formality of First Reading Witnessed at Dublin; Lively Debate and Crucial Vote Expected on Second Reading

Canadian Press and Associated Press Cable
Dublin, Irish Free State, April 20.—President Eamon de Valera's bill to abolish the oath of allegiance to the Crown was passed on first reading without a division in the Dail today.

This had been expected, but a crucial vote is looked for when the bill comes up for second reading next Wednesday. The President introduced the bill himself.

Ernest Blythe, who is Minister of Finance in the former Cosgrave administration, announced the Cosgrave party would oppose it on second reading.

A formal objection to the measure was entered by Deputy McDermott, independent, by way of serving notice that vital debate on the issue might be expected to begin next week.

TO AMEND CONSTITUTION
The preamble describes the bill as an act to remove the obligation now imposed by law on members of the Dail (Senate and Dail) and ministers who are not members of the Executive Council to take the oath, and for this purpose to amend the constitution and also the constitution of the Irish Free State Act of 1922.

The preamble was worded thus because under the constitution there is power to appoint as a minister of the Irish Free State a person who is not a member of either the Senate or the Dail.

Should the bill become law, another measure will be introduced to remove the necessity for candidates in elections to the Dail making, before their nomination, a declaration they will take the oath if they are elected.

Government Will Stop Alarmist Reports About Mob Clashes Going Abroad

Act Passed By Parliament Gives Government Emergency Powers

Canadian Press
Wellington, N.Z., April 20.—A censorship on messages sent abroad will be instituted by the government in order to prevent alarmist reports concerning possible recurrence of disorders in Auckland or elsewhere being cabled overseas. The government decided today to enforce the provisions of the postal regulations which give this power.

Meanwhile both houses of Parliament have passed the government's bill conferring emergency powers to deal with disturbances such as those at Auckland last week, when mobs of unemployed got out of hand and did considerable property damage and looting.

The legislation was based on the Emergency Powers Act passed in Great Britain in 1920 to deal with strikes.

CHAPLIN ILL AT SINGAPORE

PARK DISPUTE NOW SETTLED
Premier Outlines Basis on Which Mount Douglas Argument Finished

Settlement of the lengthy Mount Douglas Park dispute on a basis satisfactory to both the government and the Victoria-Saanich Parks and Beaches committee has been made, it was announced this morning by Alderman John Worthington, following receipt of a letter from Premier Toimie.

The terms of the settlement, which allows the committee to carry out improvements on the park, are set out by the Premier as follows:

"It has been definitely understood that the roadway will be completed as planned; that no extra width will be cleared for same; that no trees will be cut down for additional clearing and that only the underbrushing of the picnic park between the new road and the old road will be carried out and that no gravel will be taken from the existing gravel pit now fenced off, or from any point whatsoever within the park area. Every care will be taken to preserve the trees and to retain the scenic aspect of the park, particularly within that area under inspection."

Alderman Worthington stated, the committee would carry out the wishes of the Premier in full.

Hope To Make Long Flight Record

Two early birdmen of the transatlantic flying season are Lucien Bousquet (left) and Maurice Ross, noted French fliers, shown above as they prepared recently at a Paris field. They plan to ship their plane soon and to fly without a stop from New York to Tokyo over the Atlantic Ocean and Europe in an effort to establish a new long distance flight record. They recently set the world closed circuit flight record by remaining aloft over Oran, Algeria, for seventy-six hours and thirty-three minutes.

Glasgow Rangers Win Scottish Soccer Cup

Defeat Kilmarnock 3 to 0 in Replayed Final To-day; Fleming, McPhail and English Score

Glasgow, April 20.—Glasgow Rangers to-day won the Scottish Football Association Cup, emblematic of the soccer championship of Scotland, when they defeated Kilmarnock in a replayed final at Hampden Park by 3 to 0. The two clubs drew on Saturday, each scoring a goal.

Fleming scored for the Rangers in the first half and McPhail and English in the second.

The first goal came after the Kilmarnock goal had been under sustained pressure for ten minutes. Bell, the Killies' goalie, punched out an overhead kick by English, but could not handle the return kick of Fleming.

Outside of a few forays, most individual, Kilmarnock were kept in their own section for most of the second half. The spell passed, however, and the Rangers came back to the attack. McPhail completed a fine forward movement by goaling in the twenty-fifth minute of the half, while English settled the issue with his goal in the thirty-fifth minute.

Rangers continued on the offensive in the opening stages of the second half, but the Kilmarnock defence took care of everything. The Killies' forwards finally got going and forced the Rangers back on the defensive for a period. The spell passed, however, and the Rangers came back to the attack. McPhail completed a fine forward movement by goaling in the twenty-fifth minute of the half, while English settled the issue with his goal in the thirty-fifth minute.

Lord Byng, who has one of the longest and most distinguished military records of any living soldier, is known to hundreds of returned men in Victoria who served under him in France. He is known to thousands of other Victorians who met him in Victoria when he visited the city with Lady Byng during his term as Governor-General of Canada.

Lord Byng is reported to be much improved in health as a result of his trip, but fears are expressed that a response to all the invitations that would be extended might undo the good that has been done by the holiday. In company with Major Willis O'Connor, aide-de-camp at Government House, Ottawa, Lord Byng will spend his days quietly in the city with no formalities.

Lord and Lady Byng will visit Vancouver, where they will be guests of Col. and Mrs. Reginald Chaplin. They are expected in Montreal on May 23, remaining there until May 26 as guests of Sir Arthur and Lady Currie.

On their trip from the Pacific Coast they will visit Jasper Park, Edmonton, Calgary, Regina, Winnipeg and Toronto, reaching Ottawa May 11.

DOLLAR AT 90 ON EXCHANGE

New York, April 20.—Canadian and British currencies moved narrowly on local foreign exchanges today. The dollar closed at 90 cents, 1-16 cent lower than yesterday's close. The dollar had opened at 90 cents and held that figure throughout the session. The pound sterling closed 1/4 cent higher at $3.75 for cable transfers.

THIRTEEN POLITICAL SUITS STARTED IN NEWFOUNDLAND
St. John's, Nfld., April 20.—Newfoundland's political leaders became involved in a free-for-all legal battle today as eight more writs were issued for alleged violations of the Placement Act.

Two members of the government, including Premier Sir Richard Squires, and three members of the opposition, already had been served with writs, charging them with accepting emoluments apart from seasonal indemnities and ministerial salaries, while members of the Legislature.

BELIEVE GIRL ABDUCTED

Bellingham Mother Describes Deed to Police as Revealed to Her By "Spirits"

Girl Last Seen When She Left Companion on Street

Bellingham, Wash., April 20.—Police to-day were trying to solve the strange disappearance of Dorothy Duck, attractive twenty-one-year-old blonde, who had not been seen since shortly before noon yesterday, when she left the chicken cannery here to go to her home.

Accompanied by another girl, she walked up town and the girls separated near The Herald building. Police believe Dorothy was abducted near that point. She failed to return home and did not report for work this morning.

The missing girl's mother claims to be a spiritualist medium and told police she was haunted all night by weird cries of her daughter. She described to police the abduction as pictured to her by spirits. The girl, she believes, was taken to a lonely cabin in the country by two men in an automobile.

DYNAMITE CACHE AT MT. DOUGLAS

Workman Drives Mattock Into Fifty Sticks; Narrow Escape

Fifty sticks of dynamite, with a handful of detonators, have been taken from the middle of the new Mount Douglas Road by Saanich workmen and destroyed.

Only the heavy downpour of rain which marked the week-end saved fifty men from being blown up. When one of the workers drove his mattock through the sack of explosives on Monday morning.

The dynamite was buried six inches below the surface in the middle of the new road, about 250 yards south of the gravel pit at the crest of the hill. The condition of the sack indicated the dynamite had been hidden about eighteen months ago, at the time when Saanich was carrying out extensive operations on the roadway.

He died in a local hospital, pierced by at least twenty bullets and severely injured by the plunge of his automobile into a ditch. His assassins escaped.

CONFIDENT OF NO TAX RISE

Expect Special Estimates Body Will Balance Budget Without Rate Increase

The report of the City Council's special committee on estimates probably will be ready for presentation to the council Monday night. It was learned this morning. The committee will meet to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

This will speed considerably the task of completing the civic budget preparatory to striking the tax rate. Confidence that the rate would be fixed early next month was expressed. Under the statutes the tax rate by-law must be registered by May 15.

FORTY-TWO MILLS
While none of the committee members would express a definite opinion, it was confidently stated by some observers that plans under consideration now would enable the council to strike a rate of forty-two mills, the same as that of last year.

Passage of the $500,000 loan by-law sanctioned by the ratepayers cleared away the main obstruction in the path leading toward setting of the rate as without authority to borrow this amount the council was facing an apparently hopeless task.

The debentures issued on this account will not be sold until the fall of the year. This course was adopted on the advice of financial experts with the hope that the bond market will be in a better condition at that time. Meanwhile the results of the "over the counter" sale plan for the city's $200,000 refunding issue will be watched.

Complete Survey For Civic Reassessment

Start Made on Revision of Values Placed on City Assessment Roll

Downward Tendency Is Expected; Task Will Take Considerable Time

Following a complete survey of every piece of land and property in Victoria during the last four years, City Assessment Commissioner George O'Neil has commenced a reassessment programme of the city this year, he announced this morning.

"What I feel that the city is generally fair and equitably assessed, comparing one district with another, conditions are abnormal and an assessor must take into cognizance certain things on this account," he said.

The reassessment, which, it is indicated, will have a downward tendency will probably require several years to complete.

"Any person will realize it is an utter impossibility for one man to make a complete reassessment of the city in one year," Mr. O'Neil pointed out. "There are 19,000 parcels of land in Victoria and 11,000 buildings and, of course, they cannot all be handled at once."

Mr. O'Neil was appointed assessor of the city in 1928 and since that time has surveyed every piece of property in Victoria, thus gaining an accurate idea as to the assessment situation with a view to the various localities.

The front-foot basis is different out, is assessed on a front-foot basis, with a depth of 120 feet. In cases where the depth is greater or less, the assessment increases or reductions are made. The front-foot basis is different according to the different localities.

This method of assessment was commenced in 1928 and completed within one year with three men assessing. No drastic reductions in the total assessment for 1932 are expected.

The vast amount of work required to carry out a revision of this character was described by the assessor. It means that a general knowledge of every property under consideration must be gained. Records are kept of all sales of property, transfers and other items having a bearing on the values. Nor do sale prices necessarily indicate the true value for assessment purposes.

BROKERS WRONG, JUDGE RULES

Had No Right to Convert and Sell Out Clients Paid-up Stock, He Decides

Forty Clients Gain Victory in Court Fight Over $3,000 Credit Balance

Forty investors, who had paid in full for their stock but had not had it delivered to them when the stock brokerage firm of Branson, Brown and Company closed its doors in November, 1930, today won out in their fight for the $3,000 credit balance that was left after the firm's account was closed out in New York, as a result of the judgment given by Mr. Justice Murphy in the Supreme Court.

The judge ruled that Branson, Brown and Company had wrongfully converted their clients' stock when it instructed Logan and Bryan to sell the shares. The judge states that the signs of any of the customary brokers' pledge cards "in no way authorized what the bankrupt did."

The judgement gave these creditors preference as regards this money over the ten Victoria business men who had put up guarantees to the Royal Bank to provide a loan to the brokerage firm. These guarantors in the case were grouped with the Royal Trust Company as their trustees and H. A. Maclean, K.C., as their counsel.

EIGHT LAWYERS IN FIGHT
Eight lawyers have been participating in the case.

D. P. W. Maunsell, counsel for F. H. Kidd, trustee for the bankrupt brokerage firm, brought the case into court to settle the disposition of the money that had come into his possession.

W. H. M. Haldane was chief counsel for the creditors, headed by Mrs. M. Louise Code, with Norman W. Whitaker as counsel for James Barf with a claim of $338; Thomas Miller as counsel for J. A. Anderson of Sidney with a claim of $435; H. C. Victor Macdonald as counsel for Mrs. A. M. Howell, a trader, and H. J. Davis as counsel for Major C. R. Hay with a claim of $2,884.

They left in a heavy rainstorm with two other army planes as escort. Mr. MacDonald being bound for the Disarmament Conference at Geneva.

VANCOUVER HAS $25,000 FIRE

Woodworking Section of J. L. Northery and Sons' Plant Destroyed

Vancouver, April 20.—Loss estimated at $25,000 was caused early this morning by a fire of unknown origin which wiped out the woodworking section of the plant of J. L. Northery and Sons on Yew Street here. The loss is reported to be partly covered by insurance.

Hard work by firemen, who answered two alarms, prevented destruction of the entire plant and a spread of the flames to premises of the Liquid Carbonic Canadian Corporation which adjoins the burned section on the south.

Stocks of dry lumber in the doomed building added to the intensity of the fire and firemen worked in intense heat as they battled the flames. At times dense clouds of smoke added to their difficulties.

Strenuous work kept the fire confined to the wood-working building and saved the stock of lumber in the plant's yard and the office and other buildings.

Beatty Advocates General Control of Broadcasting By Commission Appointed and Paid By Federal Government

DIRECT ADVERTISING WOULD BE PERMITTED

Programmes of High Merit For Ten Hours a Day and Regional Committees in Provinces Suggested

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 20.—The medium of communication offered by the radio should be made available for the commercial interests of the country as well as for entertainment and educational purposes, E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, told the Commons committee on broadcasting today. Mr. Beatty presented the outline of a scheme of radio control based to a great extent on the report of the Aird Commission but reserving ownership of the National Broadcasting System for a private corporation to be created by the two main railway systems, manufacturers of radio equipment and other interested bodies, and to work under regulation of a commission appointed and paid by the government.

Another exception to the provisions of the Aird report was the inclusion of the right to broadcast direct advertising for revenue.

Mr. Beatty's scheme would not require any capital expenditure of the public funds, but would take a share of the money collected in license fees to assist in operation costs.

FREE FROM BIAS
Mr. Beatty was opposed to the principle of public ownership, but maintained his belief in the control of public utilities by government commission. The radio commission he proposed would have provincial as well as Dominion representation and he believed it would work in a public-spirited way quite free from any political interference of bias.

GENERAL CONTROL
Mr. Beatty's recommendations for a policy to meet Canada's radio requirements were as follows:

"1. Establishment of a radio commission, appointed by the federal government, of thorough and well qualified men who would be paid adequate compensation and who would exercise a general control of radio operations in Canada, such as outlined to you in the briefs filed by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and others. This commission would have a regulatory power in respect of many of the controversial matters, such as the extent of advertising, direct and indirect, hours during which it could be used, the time allotted to educational broadcasts, with power to review and correct any programme deficiencies which might arise from time to time."

"It has occurred to me," Mr. Beatty said, "that if the advantages of this great invention are as we conceive them to be, it would not be fair or proper to deny the benefit of them to the commerce of this country and to commercial institutions."

Approve British Resolution Endorsing Certain Classes of Weapons Be Prohibited

Geneva, April 20.—The World Disarmament Conference approved today the principle of reduction of armaments "to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the enforcement by common action of international obligations."

Approval of the principle was opposed only by Maxim Litvinoff, head of the Soviet delegation. Mr. Litvinoff said the action was unrelated to any effort to secure genuine disarmament.

BRITISH PROPOSAL
Following up the United States and Italian proposals of last week, Sir John Simon, British Secretary of Foreign Affairs, proposed a resolution endorsing the principle of "qualitative" disarmament—that is, the prohibition of certain classes and types of weapons.

Sir John's proposal was supported by the British, the Italians, the United States and the Germans representing a solid front in favor of abolishing certain aggressive weapons, which is opposed by France.

The discussion was adjourned until to-morrow.

MRS. MASSIE HEARD AT TRIAL

Is Last Defence Witness at Massie Hearing in Honolulu

Associated Press
Honolulu, April 2.—Mrs. Thalia Massie, central figure in Hawaii's court drama, took the witness stand to-day in the final of the defence effort to clear her husband and three others of the lynching of Joseph Kahahawai. Walking slowly down the line of spectators, Mrs. Massie took the oath, sat down and faced Clarence Darrow, chief of the defence battery. She testified she was born on St. Valentine's Day and was now twenty-one years old.

At the opening of this forenoon's session Public Prosecutor John G. Kelley announced Dr. Paul Bowers, Los Angeles alienist, would arrive to-morrow to testify for the territory regarding the insanity claim of Lieut. Massie. Mr. Kelley also announced he expected to call Dr. Robert Faus, city and county physician, to dispute the defence claim that Lieut. Massie was insane.

Two alienists yesterday testified Lieut. Massie was mentally deranged at the time he allegedly fired the shot. One of these, Dr. Edward Huntington Williams, came up for cross-examination this morning. Referring to Lieut. Massie's testimony that he did not remember what happened after he had stood before Kahahawai and heard the native confess the attack, Dr. Williams admitted an abnormal mental condition might have been present without inducing amnesia, "but other conditions make it very probable there was amnesia."

Dr. Williams said Lieut. Massie's adrenal glands probably had been extremely over-active because of worry. Assistant Prosecutor Ulrich then asked if Dr. Williams recently had testified that the glands of Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, convicted slayer of two women in Arizona, were not normal.

The witness answered affirmatively, but when Mr. Ulrich began to question him further about Mrs. Judd's condition, George S. Leisure, Mr. Darrow's associate, objected and asked Judge Charles S. Davis to have the questions confined to the present case.

If a question were permitted tending to show whether Dr. Williams had been right or wrong in the Judd case, Mr. Leisure said, it would be necessary for the defence to show him right.

LUMBER DUTIES ARE ADVOCATED

Northwesterners Tell the U.S. Senate Committee Import Levies Are Needed

Washington, April 20.—A new tariff drive opened before the United States Senate committee to-day with the appearance of a group of westerners to lay down their arguments on behalf of import taxes on lumber and pulpwood.

Like the copper tariff advocates who appeared yesterday, they said their industry was hard hit and the duties were needed to hold back foreign competition and retain jobs for United States workers.

H. B. Van Duzer of Portland, Ore., opened the drive, telling the committee the lumber industry was "desperate."

"Consider that 100,000 out of 140,000 men in our industry are idle," said Van Duzer. "We look ahead fearfully to the fall and winter. An import tax will only be a measure of relief."

PROPOSED RATES
W. R. Greenly of Seattle, representing the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, presented a detailed programme calling for the following import rates:

On rough lumber of all softwood species, $3 per 1,000 feet board measure (now free).

On dressed lumber (planed on one side or more) of all softwood species, $5 per 1,000 feet board measure (now $1).

On logs, poles and piling of all species, $1.50 per 1,000 feet log scale (now free).

On pulp of all species $1 per standard cord of 128 cubic feet (now free).

On mechanically ground wood pulp, one-tenth of one cent per pound by weight; chemical wood pulp, one-tenth of one cent per pound by weight; bleached wood pulp, one-half of one cent per pound dry weight (now free).

On cross arms, shingles, lath, handles, turnery and fence posts, 25 per cent ad valorem (now free).

Greenly estimated the lumber tax schedule he proposed would yield $20,500,000 revenue annually.

TRAVELS FAR IN SEARCH OF CLUES

While Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh have asked less newspaper publicity in the hope their representatives may get in touch with the persons holding their little son, Charles A. Jr., the return to New Jersey of Major Charles Schoeffel, of the State Police, above, is awaited. Major Schoeffel visited London, Glasgow, Vienna and other points in Europe, but as yet there has been no report as to whether he found any clue to the abductors.

HAIRCUT SAID TO BE NO CLUE

Report Lindbergh Baby Seen in St. John, N.B., Beauty Parlor Not Believed

St. John, April 20.—Further rumors linking St. John with the Lindbergh baby hunt to-day brought a statement from Chief of Police E. M. Slader that he believed all such report a unfounded. Chief Slader expressed the opinion the New Jersey state police themselves had started the report that Harry Fletcher had been seen here, so as to "drag a herring" across the path of their investigations.

Fletcher, Detroit gangster, is sought for questioning in connection with the abduction.

HAIRCUT DISCUSSION
The latest of a hundred Lindbergh rumors here is that Charles A. Jr. was given a haircut in St. John. The proprietress of a beauty shop notified police a child resembling the missing infant had his curls clipped in her establishment three weeks ago.

A woman who accompanied the child had stated she had come from Minneapolis and that, with her husband and baby, she was on her way to England, where she had been left property by a relative.

The shorn curls were given to police. The "clue" is not taken seriously in view of the fact that the beauty operator described the child as about three years old and able to talk plainly.

Tell Job Seekers To Stay in U.S.

Ottawa, April 20.—Immigration and customs officials of the Dominion government, and members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are closely co-operating to prevent unemployed persons in the United States from entering Canada, it was learned to-day.

Provisions of the Immigration and Labor Acts will be applied in a strict manner to job seekers who attempt illegal entry into Canada. Some months ago an order-in-council, especially dealing with contract labor, was passed.

These provisions, which will likewise be rigidly enforced, are aimed to prevent the entry of people who come to this country under contracts of employment or to negotiate for employment.

POLITICAL QUESTION
Of public ownership, as against private enterprise, as against private enterprise, Judge said:

"I have avoided any extended discussion of the highly controversial subject of the merits of public versus private ownership, but in respect of radio broadcasting, I suggest to you, through the members of the committee, would perhaps be better judges than I would myself, the possibilities of the abuses of a political character under government operation and the danger of radio being unfairly used in general elections, federal or provincial."

"I have heard prominent Englishmen declare against this, notwithstanding statements made to the committee of the impartiality with which radio is used in Great Britain. In Canada, where politics enter into so many public and business questions, it is at least doubtful whether we would be assured of that strict neutrality which would prevent those in control exercising an undue and even an unfair influence in pre-election campaigns."

BY STOCK ISSUES
"A corporation should be created known as the Canadian Broadcasting Company, in which the railway companies of Canada and other important radio interests would participate through stock ownership, which they would acquire by the issuance of stock and existing stations in Canada, and where the owners of these stations did not desire to become stockholders, their property and equipment should be taken over by the Canadian Broadcasting Company on terms to be agreed on, or in default of agreement, on terms to be fixed by the radio commission."

TEN HOURS A DAY
"The broadcasting company would own and operate these stations, establish others to secure ample coverage and provide a sufficient number of sustaining programmes of good quality to enable them to broadcast a minimum of ten hours a day."

"It should encourage Canadian musical talent in regard both to performance and original composition."

"It should co-operate through regional committees of directors with the provincial authorities in providing educational programmes."

"It should exercise control of commercial programmes with the object of attaining a high standard of talent and performance, with reasonable time limits."

Mr. Justice Murphy in his judgment said:

"For the purpose of this decision it is taken as a fact that claimants had paid for their shares in full and owned nothing on any account to the bankrupt at the time Logan and Bryan sold out the bankrupt holdings."

"As to those who did not sign the card, I am of the opinion that the bankrupt could not be printing the words set out in paragraph 8 of Mr. Kidd's affidavit, sworn on March 29, 1932, on statements sent to persons who had paid in full for shares and who owned nothing on any account, obtain authority to pledge, or sell such persons' shares. Such authority requires the assent of the party to be bound. Proof of sending out and receipt of statements so headed is no evidence whatever of such assent. Further, the true construction of the language used, even if assent were proven, is, in my opinion, that the powers given could only be exercised if the recipient was indebted to the bankrupt to such an extent that the bankrupt considered the exercise of the powers necessary to protect it from loss in connection with such indebtedness. As I hold that the same construction must be put on the language set out on the card exhibited, and consequently that the act of those who did sign it, in no way authorized what the bankrupt did, it follows that the shares of both classes have been wrongfully converted by the bankrupt through the action it directed Logan and Bryan to take."

"On the assumption that parties in each class owed the bankrupt nothing on any account, I think this case falls squarely within the principle set out in the last paragraph appearing on page 388 of the report of the re Wiggins Limited, B.C.R. 360. The claim of the Royal Trust Company to the

Richard Lowe entered the case as counsel for H. J. Paisley of Vancouver, with a claim of all of a $998.01 refund he had obtained from the government.

Mr. Justice Murphy in his judgment said:

moneys received from Logan and Bryan cannot prevail against those entitled to the benefit of the principle referred to above. The bankrupt could not give to the Royal Trust Company security on such persons' shares for it had no authority to do so. Neither can the money loaned to the bankrupt by the Royal Bank of Canada be, in any way, connected with the Logan and Bryan surplus. This money was loaned to enable the bankrupt to carry on its business. If sent to Logan and Bryan, the persons indemnifying the bank against loss in connection with such loan with a claim over against this bankrupt cannot be in any better position than are persons who authorized the bankrupt to pledge or sell their shares in connection with indebtedness to it. The principle cited above that this latter class must stand aside until those injured by wrongful conversion are paid in full out of the Logan and Bryan surplus."

"Whether or not the rights of this class inter se are to be adjudicated upon in the bankruptcy proceedings is a question that has given me some pause. If I may say so, with deference, I prefer on this feature the reasoning of Hodgins, J. S., in the Wiggins case, but as I read the majority judgments it is held that such adjudication should be made in the bankruptcy proceedings."

"This view seems inferentially to be that of the Supreme Court of Canada in re Beliveau & Co., 12 C.B.R. 1 accordingly so direct."

ADmits TRYING TO BRIBE MAYOR

Portland, Oregon, April 20.—Jack L. Mazurkowsky, former president of the Central Municipal Market Company, to-day pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with having offered Mayor George L. Baker a $10,000 bribe to influence the mayor's vote on a public market site. Sentence will be passed May 2.

Mayor Baker and two city commissioners also were indicted in connection with the alleged bribe, but the indictments against the mayor was dismissed yesterday.

The mayor and the commissioners, however, must go to trial on indictments charging them with malfeasance and negligence in office in connection with the alleged overpayment of about

OTTAWA BULLISH AGAIN ON WHEAT

Ottawa, April 20.—A survey of the wheat situation to-day shows a brightening of conditions, but the brightening of Canada is the estimate of a comparatively small group with indications of favorable export trade for the balance of the present crop year, ending July 31, 1932.

Recent estimates place the probable crop at 104,000,000 bushels, the smallest since 1928, and about 30,000,000 bushels less than on July 31, 1931. In a review of world conditions, issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics to-day, the European market is described as "broader to-day than at any time during the present crop year." World import requirements for the balance of the crop year are placed at 225,000,000 to 235,000,000 bushels. Under present conditions, Canada and the United States will be able to supply 150,000,000 bushels, probably, says The Bureau. Review of 75,000,000 bushels from each country.

WHEAT BELT
Reports of below normal conditions in the winter wheat belt of the United States have the eyes of the grain trade focused on the situation there. With reports of a crop of 42 per cent below the 1931 yield, weather conditions over that production area in the next few weeks will have an important effect on the world situation. With spring sowing started in Canada, soil conditions, generally, are regarded as favorable.

CONDITIONS IN EUROPE
Growing crops in Europe are subjects of varying reports, but it is too early, says The Review, to offer definite estimates. In general, crops in northern Europe are reported to be backward, and in Central Europe, including France, Spain and Germany, are in poor condition. The Danubian countries report a favorable development, with the exception of Hungary, where wheat and rye crops are unsatisfactory. Reports from Russia continue to indicate difficulty in getting the 1932 production under way, and the Soviet continues to offer a field for speculation among students of the wheat situation. The spring seed collection campaign has been slow and there is a scarcity of domestic supplies, following the ambitious export programme of last fall.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION
Ottawa, April 20.—Information as to the attitude of the government to technical education will be made public shortly. Hon. Wesley A. Gordon, Minister of Labor, so informed the Commons yesterday. The question was raised by J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg North Centre. The Minister said the matter had been under consideration for some time, but the stage has not yet reached when the government could make a statement.

OBJECT TO TAX

Ottawa, April 20.—A large delegation of ice cream manufacturers waited on members of the government yesterday with a request for the removal of the 6 per cent sales tax on their product, provided in the budget now before the Commons.

M.P.'S TOLD OF RELIEF IN B.C.

T. Reid Scores Report Legislature Was Given After Committee Hearings

Ottawa, April 20.—Unemployment relief administration in the province of British Columbia formed the theme of further discussion in the Commons yesterday afternoon when Thomas Reid, Liberal, New Westminster, shared in the budget debate. Mr. Reid said he had not intended to deal with the matter, but the speech of the member for Nanaimo (C. H. Dickie) made it necessary for him to make some reference to unemployment.

WRITTEN BY 'CONSERVATIVES'
The member for Nanaimo said Mr. Reid had read what must have been either an advance or a telegraphic copy of a report made by a committee of the British Columbia Legislature which investigated charges of maladministration of unemployment relief by the government of that province. Mr. Reid expressed the opinion the report in question was written by the Conservative members of the committee. At any rate, in line with parliamentary practice, the majority of members of the committee were Conservatives, he said.

BLANKETS AND WHEELBARROWS
He proceeded to deal with the report, a copy of which he quoted from. The committee had found that a statement made by Mr. Reid that 50,000 blankets had been sold by one manufacturer to the government for unemployment relief purposes was "without foundation in fact." The information on which he based that statement, declared Mr. Reid, had been given to him by a responsible manufacturer of British Columbia. Another of Mr. Reid's statements that he had counted 450 steel wheelbarrows in one camp was not denied by the report. It stated, however, that if 450 wheelbarrows were in one camp, it must have been one of the camps from which supplies were distributed. If this was so, commented Mr. Reid, the camp in question was very much out of the way.

AID FOR FARMERS
Mr. Reid said something must be done immediately, however, to aid farmers. Agriculture should be developed first and then on the strength of that industry could be fostered. The high rate of interest prevalent throughout the Dominion on loans and mortgages, Mr. Reid said, was too heavy a burden. He was glad the Canadian rate had been increased, and asserted it would be a good thing if it were raised even higher. The citizens of Great Britain paid about twice the Canadian rate, and there were no means paupers, but had recently proved themselves to be the best in the world by surmounting terrific odds and balancing a budget.

TRADE DOWNS
The budget, at least in part, was not very pleasant reading for the Canadian people, said H. E. Spencer, U.F.A., Battle River, exports and imports were both down. This was to be expected. The policy of the government could have had no other effect even in good times, and in bad times it was so much worse. The policy of the government should have been one of encouraging trade, instead it had been one of discouraging international business.

The "nuisance" taxes, such as the impost on long distance telephone calls, telegrams, stamp taxes, etc., did not appeal to Mr. Spencer. These, he said, constituted another impediment to business. He would have preferred to see the income tax backed up to a point which would yield the additional revenue it was hoped to gain from the nuisance taxes.

Mr. Spencer regretted the increase of the sales tax, which, he said, was distinctly a consumer's tax. He expressed wholehearted support of Robert Gardiner's amendment.

Hon. Arthur Sauve, Postmaster-General, speaking in French, defended the record of the government, particularly in relation to the tariff and unemployment relief.

Protesting against the "diplomatic and abusive attacks" launched against the Prime Minister by the French-speaking members of the House, Mr. Sauve declared that in his twenty-five years of political life he had never seen the reputation of any man enhanced by such methods.

MANITOBA BANK
A statement by Premier Bennett on action taken by the Dominion in regard to the Manitoba savings office featured the day in the House. Following negotiations between the province and the banks, he said, the Dominion had guaranteed the banks against losses when they assumed deposit liabilities of the savings office.

Deposits of the provincial bank aggregated about $12,000,000, said Premier Bennett. The banks had been distributed among the chartered banks at Winnipeg. The Dominion so far had incurred no loss through its guarantee to the banks. Ottawa had played no part in the active negotiations leading up to the agreement, they being confined to the banks and Manitoba government.

BAKERY TAX IS PROTESTED
Vancouver Salesmen Point Out to Ottawa Consumers Pay 12 Per Cent

Vancouver, April 20.—The Bakery Salesmen's Union has asked the Vancouver and New Westminster District Trades and Labor Council to protest to the government against the 6 per cent sales tax on bakery products. It bases its protest on the ground that with this new tax the public is paying 12 per cent in taxes, as the bakers pay 6 per cent on their sales. Naturally, the delegates say, the public has to pay the additional tax, and the duplication should be pointed out to the government.

District Budget Under Discussion
Announcement was made by Colin McDonald, president and acting secretary of the council, that the executive had received a letter from Victoria that the personnel of the Workers' Compensation Board would not be changed. On April 2 the council had protested in Victoria against the reported removal of the chairman.

Newfoundland To Have Election

Canadian Press
St. John, Nfld., April 20.—An election will be held in Newfoundland "probably at the end of May or June," Premier Sir Richard Squires told P. C. Aldrich in reply to a question from the opposition leader yesterday during the first session of the House of Assembly since the April 5 riots. It was hard to say, however, just when polling would take place, he said.

Yesterday's sitting was held without untoward incident as the House met behind closed doors to strangers and with a cordon of 200 police thrown about the Colonial Building.

The Premier stated a redistribution bill probably would be introduced before the House dissolved, and that revision of the voters' list was "almost certain."

STATE RADIUM CONTROL URGED
Senator King, Addressing Upper House, Supports McRae Proposal

Ottawa, April 20.—National control of radium extracted from the pitchblende deposits of the Great Bear Lake area urged in the Senate yesterday by Hon. J. H. King, Liberal, British Columbia, and former Minister of Health, Canada, he said, might be in position to supply not only its own demand for radium, but the British Empire's as well.

In supporting the proposal of Senator A. D. McRae, Conservative, Vancouver, that the Dominion assume control of radium production, the Senator said this would afford an opportunity of contributing a great boon to humanity. He favored a departmental committee of officials from the mines, health and research branches to consider this question, or, failing that, a committee of these with prominent citizens associated. This committee could take enough radium to supply the provinces, with sufficient free of charge, when competent application was assured. He would also recommend that the amount of radium extracted from the mines, this and other nations on the same assurance at cost of production and distribution.

FEWER CANADIANS DRIVING AUTOS
Registrations For First Time Show Drop and Taxes Collected Fall

Ottawa, April 20.—For the first time the registration of motor vehicles in Canada showed a decrease in 1931; the total for all classes being 1,204,836, as against 1,239,883 for 1930, a decrease of 35,047 vehicles or 2.7 per cent. A report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows passenger automobile registrations decreased from 1,047,494 cars in 1930 to 1,024,385 last year.

Total taxes collected through registration fees, mileage on buses, etc., amounted to $19,094,908, which was $481,375 less than in 1930. Eastern provinces showed increased revenue from this source, while the prairie provinces and British Columbia all recorded decreases. The total gasoline tax collected amounted to $22,546,119 as against $22,655,225 for 1930.

Canada, with an average population of 8.5 persons per motor vehicle, had a greater total registration than any other country except the United States, the United Kingdom and France.

WANT CATTLE TRADE INCREASE

Senators Debate Canada's Share of British Market; Economic Conference Topic

Ottawa, April 20.—The Senate was informed yesterday by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, government party leader, that problems facing cattle exporters would be brought to the attention of the chairman of the committee arranged for the Imperial Economic Conference, to be held in Ottawa in July.

Canadian cattle encountered less favorable conditions in the British market than Irish cattle, said Senator Riley. A total of 24,500 cattle crossed the ocean last year, but the trade could be developed to a greater extent than that, if restrictions were modified. The best opportunity to revise the entire trade would be at the conference table. The Western Cattle Association was preparing a brief, he said.

REPRESENTATIONS DRAFTED
Organization of the conference agenda was under the supervision of the cabinet, said Senator Meighen. Memoranda were being prepared on tariffs, exchange, currency and other topics, and he would undertake to bring to the attention of the government the important subject of the cattle trade.

Great Britain was a great importing country, and Canada wanted to share more largely in British agricultural imports, but should be ready to give reasonable concessions.

Senator Meighen thought a live cattle market was essential, but an even more essential market was for bacon. Canada produced little surplus bacon—only 6,000,000 hogs annually for 10,000,000 people. Great Britain produced only 4,000,000 hogs for more than 40,000,000 people, and supplied further requirements chiefly from Denmark and other European countries. The British bacon market had been lost after the Great War, due to irregularity of supply in quantity and quality, said Senator Meighen. This country could produce hogs of a good quality and at as low price as any country in the world.

JOBLESS BARRED AT THE BORDER

Ottawa, April 20.—From the Prime Minister's office yesterday evening came an announcement that the attention of the government had been drawn to the fact that numbers of unemployed persons in the United States were making their way into Canada. The movement into Canada, it was stated, came through various ports of entry.

"Vigorous action is being taken to put an end to this influx," it was announced.

PACIFIC TRADE REVIVAL SEEN

New York, April 20.—In announcing the nineteenth foreign trade convention will be held at Honolulu May 4 to 6, the National Foreign Trade Council reports a revival of industrial activity in the Far East. As evidence of this, the council said Japan had imported twice as much cotton last year as in 1930, with the United States supplying 45 per cent. Declining prices enabled Japan to increase its volume 97 per cent at an increase in cost of only 21 per cent, the council said. Some 600 foreign traders from Canada, Japan, China, the Philippines, Australia and the United States are expected at the Honolulu meeting. The agenda includes trans-Pacific communication rates, tariffs and trade barriers, and the boycott as an international trade weapon. A. B. C. of Montreal, passenger tariff official of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is scheduled to attend from Canada.

Grain Corporation Of U.S. Attacked

Associated Press
Kankakee, Ill., April 20.—After eleven months of intimate contact with the Farmers' National Grain Corporation of Chicago, Edward B. Kennedy, leader of the Kankakee County revolt against federal farm relief agencies, yesterday denounced the operation of the Grain Corporation and its parent, the Federal Farm Board.

Kennedy cited a mass of general accusations and mentioned two personal experiences, both of which he said he was ready to lay before the U.S. Senate committee now preparing to investigate the Farm Board. His specific charges were:

1. That an officer of the Grain Corporation, at the convention of the National Farmers' Union in November, 1930, offered him $50,000 cash to bring the three votes of the Illinois delegation to Mr. Huff for re-election as president of the Farmers' Union.

2. That on a subsequent occasion he was offered a $10,000 job and an unlimited expense account if he would agree to "lay off" the Farm Board and accede to the Grain Corporation's programme to take over the Illinois division of the Farmers' Union.

The ashes of Air Commander R. C. M. Pink, Chief of Staff Officer, Air Defense of Great Britain, who died recently, were by his wishes scattered on the sports field of the Air Force Camp, near Ramsgate, England.

TO EXPLAIN SEISMOGRAPH

F. Napier Denison Will Give Talk to Astronomical Society

The use of the seismograph and the detection of slow earth movements will be fully explained at a public meeting of the Astronomical Society to be held in Amphion Hall Friday by F. Napier Denison, director of the Meteorological Observatory for the last thirty-three years.

Mr. Denison will show the magnitude of these earth movements and their effect on mean sea level and explain the seasonal changes in the pendulum. Recently Mr. Denison perfected an instrument of great practical use in the mining industry, for with it slow movements in the mines are detected and recorded. This instrument will be described to the public for the first time.

James Duff, M.A., past president of the society, will give a short talk on the constellation "Leo" which now appears in the southern sky about 7 p.m.

This meeting will be of special importance to the younger people who are interested in astronomy, for a resolution providing for junior membership in the Astronomical Society will be brought up. It is also intended to announce the programme for the summer meetings.

MORE STEPS FOR BEAUHARNOIS

Quebec Premier Says Action Announced By Bennett Does Not Solve Whole Problem

Canadian Press
Montreal, April 20.—The intervention of the Dominion Government in the affairs of Beauharnois had "temporarily crippled" the company, Premier L. A. Taschereau of Quebec said here yesterday. If the government had not come into Beauharnois it would not to-day be necessary to use the money of the taxpayers to secure the completion of the enterprise, he said.

"I have not had time to study the statement of Prime Minister Bennett as reported in the Commons yesterday," Mr. Taschereau said, "but I have read enough to conclude he does not solve the whole problem."

"One thing is certain," Mr. Taschereau said, "before Ottawa came into the Beauharnois affair, the Beauharnois interests had no trouble in financing their enterprise. There was the utmost confidence in the men in charge of it and savings of the public flowed into the Beauharnois coffers as a sound investment."

$13,000,000 FROM QUEBEC

"Political intervention changed the entire situation, with the result that the enterprise was crippled temporarily through the works were continued. Public confidence was shaken and financing became more difficult. That explains why Ottawa to-day is obliged to use the Canadian people's money to assure completion of the job."

"I do hope," said the Premier in closing, "that the newest intervention will prove the salvation of the enterprise, for it is essential $13,000,000 invested by the people of Quebec in Beauharnois bonds be secured."

NIGHT CLOSING IS DISCUSSED

Vancouver City Councillors Deadlocked on Question of Dance Hall Hours

Vancouver, April 20.—Night life in Vancouver came under the inquiring gaze of members of the city council yesterday when a special committee wrestled for two hours with the problem of closing hours for dance halls and cabarets.

So much time was occupied by arguments for and against extension of hours the committee was forced to adjourn without making any decision for a recommendation to the council.

Dance hall proprietors recently asked the council for an extension of hours from the present closing hour of midnight. They wished to be on the same basis as cabarets. Proprietors of cabarets suggested a 3 a.m. closing hour, arguing that if their establishments were closed earlier their patrons would patronize roadhouses and similar establishments outside the city boundaries.

Chemainus

Special to The Times

Chemainus, April 20.—The annual hospital ball held in the Recreation Hall was most successful, the large attendance including many couples from distant communities. The ballroom was decorated in a very attractive appearance. Piniotti's five-piece orchestra from Nanaimo supplied the music. Mrs. Clement and a special committee served an excellent supper in the picture house adjacent to the hall, the tables being gay with daffodils, primroses and greenery.

Dancing was enjoyed until 3 o'clock. Music for the supper dances was provided by Mrs. Randall Jarrett and Messrs. Alister and Wilson.

Sidney Tickle, who has been a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, is home again.

Mrs. M. Mason, Halifax, praises
BABY'S OWN TABLETS.

"Baby's Own Tablets have indeed been a friend to me," writes Mrs. Mason.

"When the children are over-tired and restless I give them their dose of Baby's Own Tablets at night, and in the morning
I can see that a wonderful change has taken place—they are happy, contented and soothed children, and a pleasure to cope with."

DAUGHTER OF

BANKER WED

Miss Helen S. Fowler Becomes Bride To-day of Kenneth W. Brown

Pretty Ceremony at St.
Luke's Followed by Reception at "Pendello"

A wedding of wide interest and much beauty of detail was solemnized in the little church of St.

Luke's, Cedar Hill, this afternoon at 4 o'clock, when Rev. S. Ryall united in marriage Helen Slater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. B.

Fowler of "Pendello," Tudor
Avenue, Ten Mile Point, and Mr.
Kenneth Wilson Brown, son of Mr.
and Mrs. T. S. Brown, 800 St.

George Street, North Vancouver.
Fragrant masses of narcissi, daffodils and other spring flowers were used in the decoration of the church by a bevy of girl friends of the bride, under the direction of Miss Betty Streetfield.

BRIDAL PARTY
Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in dove grey georgette and lace, the slim bodice being finished with a yoke of the lace and short puff sleeves, the graceful skirt falling in fine accordion pleats from the yoke to the hemline, where it joined a flounce of the lace. A bridled girdle in dove grey and deep plum georgette marked the waistline, finished with a brilliant buckle. A hat of delphinium blue silk mohair, with pale pink roses posed above and beneath the brim, and accessories to match completed the bridal toilette.
Sister carried a sheaf of pale pink
Ophelia roses.

Mrs. N. G. Randall of Trail, sister of the bride, was the only attendant. She wore a charming gown of white flowers and houndstooth pattern in colorings of sea-green and autumn brown made on long lines and with a coat of the material. Her hat was a bangs of the same shade of green as appeared in the gown, and with French flowers. She carried a sheaf of blue Spanish iris and pink tulips.

The bridegroom was supported by Mr. C. Hagel of Vancouver, and the usher was Messrs. Richard Fowler, brother of the bride, and Randall Mathews.

Mr. Bartram, organist of St. Luke's, rendered the wedding music.

RECEPTION AT "PENDELLO"
Following the service at the church,
a reception was held at "Pendello," where the bride and groom were assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs.

Fowler and Mrs. T. S. Brown. Mrs.
Fowler wore a wine-colored gown of heavy silk crepe, relieved with a partial yoke of cream lace. Her hat was of black mohair and she wore a corsage of cream roses.

The tea-table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake, surmounted in place of lights, pink tapers and low bowls of spring flowers, gave a further artistic touch to the table appointments. Daffodils were used to enhance the reception rooms.

TO RESIDE IN OAK BAY
Later Mr. and Mrs. Brown left by a motor for a trip up Vancouver Island, and on their return to Victoria will make their home on Hampshire Road, Oak Bay. For traveling the bride wore a two-piece suit of heather tweed in blue and white and a chic felt hat of blue adorned with a feather mount.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Brown of North Vancouver, parents of the groom, Mrs. Mary Stewart and Miss
Isabel Stewart, Miss Joan Finlayson,
Miss Gladys Hodge, Miss Iris Bastedo and Miss Edwina Hodge, all of Vancouver.

Baptist Women's Comedy—Under the auspices of the Women's Union of the First Baptist Church, an amusing comedy, "Aunt Susan's Visit," will be presented at the church hall on Thursday and Friday evenings in aid of the church funds. Mrs. C. W. Bradshaw is general convener, Mrs. A. E.

Taylor has charge of the costumes,
which will include a number of garments of pioneer days, and Mrs. A. H.
Edwards will have charge of the properties. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. W. G. Richardson, G 7320, or of any members of the Union.

Dr. Alwyn of Kamloops, who came down to Victoria to attend the death of his brother-in-law, Mr. G. H. Aylard, left yesterday evening for the mainland on his way to his home in the interior.

Mrs. J. P. Templeton and Miss Peggy Templeton, Linden Avenue, who have been spending the last five months in Chatham, Ont., as the guests of Mrs.
Templeton's mother, Mrs. Rispin, are expected back in Victoria at the end of this month.

Miss Clara French has hostess at her home, 182 George Road West, on Monday evening at a delightful miscellaneous shower and bridge party held in honor of Miss Evelyn MacFarlane, whose marriage to Mr. George
R. Newall will take place on Saturday.

The many dainty gifts formed the "cargo" of a model ship, a replica of one of the boats of the Arctic, decorated in yellow and purple and bearing a "Bon Voyage" flag flying from the mast.
The evening was spent in bridge and later supper was served. The prettily appointed table was centered with an artistic arrangement of wild lilies and

Thoughts and impressions of a walk around town—a transpacific flight—is spring housecleaning worth the cost?—Husbands eat breakfasts in town because wives have theirs in bed—and cutting lawns and other things.

Dear Marge—"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love," sings the poet. Not being a young man, my mind is free to cogitate on ordinary mundane matters, and these are a few thoughts and impressions of a reporter on duty.

"Yum, yum," fresh strawberries in the shop windows—consider buying some, but on second thought decide to be prudent and wait until they are cheaper. Wisdom is the better part of shopping. Console myself by deciding that the flavor of the earliest berries is always rather insipid.

Pass several women with cold, blue noses and think that no one can possibly look attractive with a blue nose—then realize my own is just as blue and unattractive, and decide to use extreme care in choosing a new powder base that will make the powder adhere—think that here is a money-making scheme if one could only find the right formula.

Watching seagulls flying and caroming around in the "stratosphere" suggests, to my mind, the daring adventure of flying the Pacific. Wonder what the chances would be of safely arriving on the other side—that is, of course, after the necessity of first learning to fly had been accomplished—but one's mind hurries all such minor difficulties if given free rein.

WILL OBSERVE
HOSPITAL DAY

King's Daughters' Hospital at Duncan to Be Open May 8

Special to The Times
Duncan, April 20.—The King's Daughters' Hospital will observe Hospital Sunday on May 8, when the hospital will be open for inspection by the general public and tea will be served. A campaign for new members will also be initiated on Hospital Sunday.

The directors have arranged for the graduation exercises of the 1932-33 class of the nursing school to be held at the Nurses' Home on Thursday, April 28. The students are finishing their training at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria upon us.

March was unusually busy, the directors were informed at the monthly meeting. Eighty-three patients had been admitted, eight babies discharged and fifty-four carried into April. The daily average had been 54.3 patients, with an average per capita cost of $2.87. The nine months had totaled 1,654, and the expenditures for the month had been $3,905.98. Receipts had totaled $3,801.

In recent weeks the operating room, service room and case room had been repainted and a steady maintenance programme was being carried on as funds permitted.

Your Baby
and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

WEAN HIS MAJESTY BEFORE HOT WEATHER ARRIVES

If baby is to be weaned before hot weather, this is the time to think about it seriously. Baby may be weaned any time between now and June, but it would be undesirable to start when summer is decidedly upon us.

Those babies who are now seven or eight or nine months old belong in the weaning class. The seven and eight months old babies should be weaned if they are not gaining well, if they are showing marked dissatisfaction with breast feedings, or if they are waking two or three times at night to be nursed. The nine months old baby should be weaned regardless of his state of nutrition. To nurse him longer would bring the weaning period at practically the twelfth month which is not to be thought of.

PROLONGED NURSING

Modern babies are not nursed for a year, because it is disadvantageous to both their physical and mental development. Not one mother in a thousand can provide a nourishing supply of milk for twelve months, and the baby who is nursed past the first year becomes the most difficult of babies to wean to cup feeding and to other feeding habits which are desirable for the year old child.

Weaning need be neither a difficult procedure nor a dangerous one if it is carried out with any degree of care. My latest "How to Wean the Breast-fed Baby" has been used successfully by thousands of mothers. Any mother may obtain a copy of it if she will send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the "Your Baby and Mine" department. Please ask for it by name.

BABY REBELS

The only real obstacle most mothers encounter is the baby's own reluctance to accept a bottle. At eight or nine months no effort should be made to force a bottle on a child if he is unwilling to accept it. Use a cup and let him become accustomed to it. And it is much easier for a baby to accept any new milk formula from almost anyone except his mother.

To the baby his mother represents one thing, nursing, and he loudly resents having her thrust a bottle at him. But the chances are good that if mealtime arrives and his mother is not in sight and he is hungry, he will accept a bottle and enjoy it. After one such pleasurable experience, there should be no further struggle.

TRY TACT AND PATIENCE

If baby is set and determined in his rebellion against the bottle, wait for a few days to let him forget his experience before offering it again. If the mother sets her teeth and says firmly, "You will take this bottle, or I'll know the reason why," she is doomed to failure. Be tactful. Be patient. Try another hour, another time of feeding until, spoon or glass or cup, and keep a smiling face. Offer all her meals at wakful periods when baby is at his pleasantest. A tired, cross baby is never one to be reasoned with.

No teeth, wakefulness at night, constipation and failure to gain are all positive signs of the need for more plate-glass front the full length of the building. I wonder if a suggestion from me to put the fountain and soda counter across the front of the store would be accepted with any enthusiasm by the management. It would serve a double purpose. People drinking sodas could watch the passers-by and the passers-by could watch the soda drinkers—for what reason I don't quite know; it was just a thought. But pretty girls drinking sodas make attractive pictures, and, besides, it is true that there is a fascination in watching others and drink.

I wonder why so many business men have their breakfast in town, and decide the reason for it is that so many business men's wives have their breakfasts in bed.

I look down Douglas Street at the big clock in the tower and discover to my amazement that the hour is much later than I had suspected, and that it is high time I was getting back to the office.

On the way back I run across a friend who asks me, with great originality, how I am; to which I make the inspired answer that "I am feeling perfectly splendid, thank you, and how are they?" There doesn't seem anything particularly urgent or interesting to say so early in the morning, so after a few similarly "scintillating" remarks I leave and turn my footsteps off toward Au Revoir, MIMI.

food. It is certain that if seven or eight or nine months of nursing have not succeeded in bringing baby up to normal standard, further months of nursing will not work any miracles. To continue nursing the baby will simply aggravate these conditions and make them the more difficult to improve.

Chicago, April 20.—When it comes to movie heroines, farmers favor those with corn-fed curves and they want big husky men heroes. thousands of farm communities over the country.

And in fan mail addressed to the federation, C. L. Jordan, scenario writer, and Herbert G. Bates, director, the farmers have set forth what they think and what they do not want in their photoplays.

First of all they want their movie characters dressed as farmers actually do and not after the fashion of the traditional "hayseed." Chin whiskers on a cinema farmer will get the "boo" anywhere and a colored tablecloth in a farmhouse kitchen will bring in a mail sack of kicks from farmers' wives everywhere.

The federation's intention is to help to educate the farmers through these pictures. That apparently is all right with the farm folk, for they crowd in to see themselves on the silver screen.

"Mad Marriage"

By LAURA LOU BROOKMAN
Author of "Heart Hungry," Etc.
(Copyright by NEA Service Inc.)

Gypsy had barely time to conquer her surprise and not in answer before she was outside the cell, following Jim down the corridor.

"What do you think of her?" he asked when they reached the sidewalk.

Gypsy drew a long breath. "I'm sorry for her," she said. "Jim, she couldn't have done that hideous thing! Why, she doesn't look any older than I do. All the time I was looking at her I felt as though it might have been myself."

"Oh, I wouldn't say that!"

"But why couldn't it? I worked just as she did. There were plenty of chances for the same thing to happen—only it didn't. What I can't understand is why she doesn't talk more. Nina doesn't even try to defend herself."

"I've been trying to make her talk for three weeks," Jim said grimly.

"Anyway, I'm glad I went to see her," Gypsy continued. "Would it be all right if I made up a bundle of magazines and sent them to her?"

Jim said he thought the matter could be arranged. Two blocks down the street Gypsy left him and caught her street car. Jim's last words were that he would probably be home late.

Throughout the ride home Gypsy puzzled over Nina Roberts' whispered message. It was exciting and mysterious. There must be something Nina wanted to tell her without Jim's knowledge. That meant Gypsy must find a way to make the visit secretly.

She wondered how she could manage it and when. Not to-morrow, which was Saturday. Not Sunday. Tuesday was the date of the trial. It would have to be on Monday.

As she entered the yard a succession of short, sharp grunts greeted her. Pat came forward with a rush, leaped against her, braced about on two feet and whimpered his delight. She was rubbing his head when Sam appeared around the corner of the house. Sam came toward the girl determinedly.

"That's a fine dog!" he muttered sarcastically. "yes, a fine dog. Would you like to see what he's done to the tulips, ma'am?"

The tulips were the first blooms in the garden to flaunt their defiantly brilliant heads against the April winds. Sam had reported the first blossoms a week ago. Only that morning Gypsy had counted twelve.

"Oh, Sam, he didn't!"

"See for yourself, ma'am. I've told you before there can't be much garden as long as that dog's allowed to dig and scratch wherever he takes a notion. I know what I'd do with him if he was mine! I know that all right enough!"

Gypsy hurried around the house. Sure enough, there were her roses, felled and scattered. A hole the size of a bushel basket in the centre of the precious tulip bed and high on either side of it mounds of soft, fresh earth.

"Oh, Sam!"

Broken flower stems and mangled blossoms showed in the wreckage. Gypsy reached down and tried to raise to life one of the half-uprooted plants. Pat, unaware of the damage he had wrought, came close to her, his head slightly to one side, eyeing the gaping hole. He was evidently proud of it.

Gypsy took the dog's head between her two hands. "How am I going to teach you," she said sadly, "that you must not dig in the garden? You've been a bad dog, Pat. I don't like you when you tear up the flowers. I don't like to have the garden spoiled!"

She shook her head at the terror. Pat eyed her in puzzled dejection.

"If he were mine I'd teach him quick enough!" Sam spoke up crossly.

Gypsy rose. "Do what you can with the tulip bed," she told the man. "I'll talk to Mr. Wallace about stretching up a piece of wire fencing." She could hear Sam growling to himself as she led Pat toward the house.

They had not been inside ten minutes when the door bell rang. Matilda was in the kitchen baking. Gypsy went to the door. There were two women outside on the porch.

"How do you do, Mrs. Wallace," they chorused. For an instant Gypsy was startled. The remembered where she had seen that purple costume. The woman Jim had introduced at the hotel

"Mrs. Butterworth! The younger one was the daughter."

"How do you do?" Gypsy answered. "It's Mrs. Butterworth, isn't it? And Miss Butterworth. Won't you come in? I've just got in from down town."

Mrs. Butterworth glanced about the living-room. "We've been meaning to drop in to see you for a long while," she said. "but you know how time flies! I declare, here it is the middle of April. Yes, time certainly does fly. Been making some changes in this room, haven't you, Mrs. Wallace?"

"Yes, I hope you like it."

"Oh, it's lovely! Lovely! Only of course it looks different to me because I was always used to the way Miss Ellen had things. Miss Ellen likes it in her little house down the street, I suppose."

"I think she likes it very much," Gypsy agreed. "If you'll just excuse me a moment I'll have Matilda make some tea. It will only take a minute."

She was back almost immediately. Daphne Butterworth looked up and stared at Gypsy by speaking. "I've been telling mother how much I like your curtains," she said. It was the first time Gypsy had ever heard Daphne express an opinion.

Before Gypsy could reply Mrs. Butterworth cut in.

"I suppose you read about that Loring girl marrying Brock Phillips?"

"Yes, what a surprise that was! Maybe I shouldn't say it to you, but of course you must know the whole town expected Marcia to marry Jim Wallace. Only girl I guess Jim ever went with. Well, that's the way it goes. You can't tell about men. No, indeed, you certainly can't. Did Jim know about it before he read it in the paper?"

"Why, really, Mrs. Butterworth—"

"Oh, I suppose I shouldn't have asked. Only of course, you know there's bound to be a good deal of talk about it. I want to guess Marcia Loring's getting a sight more money than she's ever had before. The Loring's didn't have much, you know. He was in the bank here but outside of some insurance and real estate there wasn't much left. Their going east must have been what broke up the match between Marcia and Jim. And last summer when she was visiting out here he was so devoted to her!"

Matilda's arrival with the tea tray helped Gypsy over the embarrassing moment.

"Three lumps," Mrs. Butterworth instructed as Gypsy raised the sugar tongs. "I like my tea sweet no matter what the style are." She accepted the cup, then continued. "It does seem sort of unusual, doesn't it, for Jim and Marcia to have their weddings almost the same month after being engaged to each other for so long?"

Gypsy handed a teacup to Miss Butterworth. "Have you read anything interesting lately?" she asked in a deliberate voice.

"Why no, I guess not. Somehow I never seem to catch up with the books I want to read. I guess it's what mamma calls having too many irons in the fire."

Twice again Mrs. Butterworth tried to turn the conversation to Marcia Loring's wedding but each time Gypsy was on guard. When the callers left twenty minutes later there was hostility in the older woman's eyes.

Saturday and Sunday passed uneventfully, and Monday was a day of brilliant sunshine. By 9.30 Gypsy was out of the house on her way to the secret visit to Nina Roberts.

CHAPTER XXVI

Gypsy was in luck. She waited on the steps for several moments and then the face of the guard appeared behind the heavy iron door. It was Steve, the same guard she had seen the day she had come with Jim.

"Jim Mrs. Wallace," Gypsy said. "Jim Wallace's wife. I came with my husband the other day to see Nina Roberts. Don't you remember?"

The jail guard nodded.

"Wonder if I can see Nina this morning. I thought maybe a little company would do her good."

BEDTIME STORY
Uncle Wiggily and the Chimney Bird

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggily and his wife were sitting in the hollow stump bungalow, they heard a strange noise. It was a rustling, brushing, peeping sort of sound.

"What is that?" asked Mrs. Longears who was darning some of her husband's socks. "Do you hear it, Wiggily?"

"Yes," answered Uncle Wiggily, laying aside the paper he was reading to find out what the new style was in carrot shortcake. "I hear a noise, but it doesn't seem to be in this room."

"Maybe it's some of the Bad Chaps!"

He lowered a basket

outside trying to get in," said the rabbit lady.

Uncle Wiggily listened more carefully and said:

"No, it isn't a Bad Chap. They make more noise than this. Hark! I believe the noise is here, in between the walls, and he put his paw on the side wall of the room near which his wife was sitting."

"Yes, the noise comes from there," she said. The dining-room is on the other side of this wall. Go in there. Wiggily and see if Nurse Jane or any of our little rabbit children are making the noise by scratching or tapping on the wall."

Uncle Wiggily hopped into the other room, but no one was there, not even Baby Bunty. When he came back to where his wife was sitting he saw her holding one ear close to the wall.

"The noise is in the chimney," said the rabbit lady.

"The chimney?" exclaimed Mr. Longears in surprise.

"Yes, the chimney," repeated the rabbit lady. "The chimney goes up through this wall and comes out the top of the roof. There used to be a fireplace here, but we had it bricked up, you know."

"Yes, I know, my dear. And the noise does seem to come from inside the chimney," agreed Mr. Longears. "But what can be down in the chimney making the noises?"

"A bird!" cried Uncle Wiggily.

"Yes, a chimney bird," went on his wife. "I think I can guess what has happened. Some poor bird, perched on the top edge of the chimney hole, must have fallen down inside. The bird is in the chimney now, hurt, perhaps so it can't fly out. So it is fluttering in there, beating its wings against the brick walls of the chimney, trying to get up by climbing with its claws and peeping for help."

"I believe you are right!" exclaimed Mr. Longears, looking lovingly at his wife. "It is a bird in the chimney. Poor thing! How are we going to get it out?"

"I don't know," said his wife, "but something must be done. Maybe you can speak to the bird through the bricks if you talk loudly."

So Uncle Wiggily, standing close to the wall, called:

"Are you in there, chimney bird?"

"Yes, I'm in here," was the sad answer. "Once more could be heard the fluttering sound of the poor bird's wings against the bricks, the scratching of its claws on the bricks and its peeping notes."

"Can't you fly out?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"Alas, no!" answered the chimney bird. "There isn't room enough in this narrow chimney for me to spread my wings and flutter to the top. Besides, when I slipped and fell in, yesterday, I hurt one wing so I can't fly very well."

"You poor bird!" said Mrs. Longears. "Have you been in the chimney all night?"

"All night," sadly answered the chimney bird. "I fear I shall never get out."

"Yes, you shall!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I'll climb a ladder to the top of my roof. I'll let down to you on the end of a cord, a basket. Flutter into the basket, chimney bird, and I'll pull you up and out."

"Oh, how kind that will be if you can do it!" chirped the bird.

"I'll do it!" said Uncle Wiggily bravely, and he did. He lowered a small basket on a string down the chimney hole from the roof of the bungalow. The poor bird fluttered into the basket and was drawn safely up and taken into the bungalow. There Nurse Jane fed the bird and bound up the hurt wing and soon the chimney bird was all well again and singing happily. So that's all there is to the story.

But if the tennis racket doesn't try to play baseball with the apple pie's roller skates, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the tapper.

DRAMATIC PROOF OF THE

OF THE FORD TRUCK

IN THE excavation work on the new Toronto Hydro Building, Ford trucks were used exclusively. The great power of these trucks enabled them to go down into the slippery clay bottom, take on a full load and pull up a steep incline to the street-level with unusual ease and efficiency. The Fords were light enough not to mire in the mud and yet had ample strength and power for the demands of this heavy hauling.

More and more, Ford trucks are being selected for the jobs where the going is rough and a capable, versatile transportation unit is required. With their low purchase price and low cost of operation, Fords are helping a greater number of both individual and fleet owners throughout the Dominion to turn a profit on a contract secured only after close and highly competitive bidding.

Many important mechanical features contribute to this outstanding efficiency. The sturdy built motor develops 40 h.p. at 2200 r.p.m.

This, combined with the 4-speed transmission, allows the driver a wide choice of speed and power for the different conditions of road and load on a day's hauling work. The rear axle with straddle-mounted pinion is of the three-quarter floating type which relieves the axle-shafts of the burden of the truck and its contents, leaving the axle free to turn the wheels. This adds to the life and reliability of the truck and is one of the reasons why the Ford operates with such low maintenance and depreciation charges. These are a few of the many features of advanced mechanical design that are built into the Ford.

Ford trucks and commercial cars with a large variety of bodies on four chassis—103½, 112½, 131½ and 157 inch wheelbases and with three gear ratios, are ideal for nearly every type of hauling. Your Ford dealer will be glad to demonstrate the unit best suited to your transportation needs.

Mother's Responsibility To Her Children Dorothy Dix Says She Lays Base For Future Happiness

Every Mother Wants Her Son to Marry a Paragon of Every Feminine Accomplishment, and Her Daughter The Finest Type of Man — Then Why Does She Not Make an Effort to Rear That Kind Herself?

WHAT kind of girl do you want your son to marry? What kind of young man do you want your daughter to marry? Every mother has a close-up of the girl whom she prays Heaven to send her son for a wife. She is a strong, healthy young woman, who looks as if she could stand up and take the punishment of wifehood and motherhood without crumpling up into a nervous wreck, or having to spend half of the time in a sanatorium. She is intelligent and well educated and with plenty of good, hard horse sense thrown in for good measure.

She is a lady with a lady's refinements in speech and manner. She has poise and dignity. She has a sense of humor and diffuses cheerfulness wherever she goes. She is amiable and easy to get along with and knows how to handle people with tact. She is unselfish and has a good grip on her temper. She is a good cook and housekeeper. She knows how to sew and how to handle money, and she is fitted in every way to make her husband happy and be a real help-mate to him.

And every mother knows exactly the sort of a man that she wants her daughter to marry. He is a clean, upstanding young chap who has brains and brawn, and who has already proved that he can stand on his own feet and fight his own way through the world. He has a sense of humor and a realization of the obligations he assumes when he takes a woman's life into his hands.

He is a man who is able to provide a decent living for his wife and to save her from the miseries and anxieties of dire poverty. He is what we call a good provider. Proud of his home and interested in its upkeep and enjoys staying in it of evenings. He thinks his wife the greatest woman in the world and is always telling her how beautiful and wonderful she is, and how blessed he is to have got her.

He is just and generous, affectionate and kind, tender and considerate. He is jolly and full of fun, and when he comes home at night it is as if the electric light has been turned on in a dark room. Everybody perks up and the children run to meet him and the cat rubs against his legs and everything is all right with this best of all possible good worlds.

That is the kind of wife that every mother would pick out for her son if she could. That is the sort of husband that every mother would select for her daughter if it were possible for her to do so. But is mother bringing up that sort of wife and that kind of husband for some other woman's son and daughter?

Not a bit of it. Mother is rearing the sort of wife and the kind of husband that she prays God on her knees every night to save her own precious darlings from being cursed with. And that is about the most cynical fact in the world.

Mother is bringing up a girl who has been so spoiled and pampered all of her life that she thinks the best of everything belongs to her as her divine right. She has had selfishness and lack of consideration for others bred into her from her very cradle. She has never done without a thing she wanted if she could get it by rages or pouting or tears.

She has never been taught to control her temper or her tongue. She does not know the first thing about cooking or keeping house or saving money, and that is the sort of bad luck that women who want their own children to fare differently wish off on their neighbors' sons.

And mother brings up a son to be selfish and overbearing and tyrannical and to know no law except his own will and to treat women as the dust under his feet. From his babyhood she has waited on him hand and foot. She has never demanded even common politeness from him. She has walked that he might have a sports car and slaved over a cookstove that he might acquire a college yell and worn her old clothes that he might be diked out like Solomon in all his glory. She has made him into the kind of man who will swear at his wife when he is irritated and leave her at home to take care of the babies while he gallivants abroad, and who will consider that he has a perfect right to philander all he pleases and chuck her out for a flapper when she gets fat and middle-aged.

There is nothing else that causes so much misery as unhappy marriages. Nothing over which so many tears are shed. Nothing over which so many hearts break. No matter what else a man and woman have—health, wealth, fame—they are nothing if they also have a mean and cruel or even nagging and grouchy wife or husband.

All women know this. They know they could abolish domestic misery and divorce in one generation if they would bring up their own sons and daughters to be the kind of husbands and wives they want their own children to marry.

Yet they do not do it. It is the most poignant example there is of man's inhumanity to man that makes countless thousands mourn.

Life in the Middle Ages

II.—DANCING AND GAMES

Dancing was popular in Europe during the Middle Ages, but the dances were different from those of the present time. In the round dance, men and women would join hands and form a circle. To the music of flute, drum or violin, they skipped around, singing as they moved. First one person and then another would sing a verse of a song; and all would join in the chorus.

Dancing Scene in Middle Ages.

The torch dance was common at weddings during the Middle Ages. The dancers divided into couples. The men held lighted torches and as they stepped about, tried to blow out the torches carried by others.

Both the men and the women wore hats and caps while they danced. It was usual for knights to remove their armor before they started to dance, but often they did not take off their coats-of-mail.

Chess was played in some of the castles. This game—which was invented in Asia long ago—seems to me the most interesting indoor game. It is rather hard to become a good player; but after you have learned chess, you will be rewarded with an exciting pastime.

Most modern chess-players are men; but in the Middle Ages it was a common thing for ladies of the castles to take part in the contest.

Although the game has been traced back to Persia and India, the modern chess pieces took their form during the Middle Ages. It may be called a game of war—without bloodshed! Each side has a king and a queen, along with two castles, two bishops, two knights, and eight pawns or "foot-soldiers." The queen is the most powerful piece on the board; she helps to save the king from being cornered, or "check-mated."

Throwing dice and playing cards were other pastimes of the castle folk. The pictures used on their cards were different from those used to-day. If you could go back to those golden times, you might pick up a deck of cards containing the "Knave of Hares" and the "Ace of Carnations." Columbines and bells were also used as suits in cards. Nobles and knights gambled with both cards and dice.

(This may be used as a school topic.) To-morrow—Knights of the Middle Ages.

LINDBERGH MAN HAS A DUCKING

Associated Press

Hopewell, N.J., April 20.—One of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's emissaries in the attempt to get Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. back from the abductors was recovering to-day from a soaking in chilly water.

Dr. John F. Condon, the "infidel" who paid $50,000 of the colonel's money to a man who represented himself as an agent of the abductors, went rowing in Pelham Bay, off the Bronx, New York, in an apparent attempt to make another contact.

His boat capsized at a dock as he returned and he was thoroughly wet before he scrambled ashore.

The New York Daily News quoted him as saying: "I got a message. A large red airplane from Kansas City landed at Princeton and the de-ported for the Lindbergh home. Later he returned and flew away, saying: 'I'm lucky I'll be back.' The plane is owned by Walter C. Taber of Kansas City, who was not aboard it."

Horoscope

THURSDAY, APRIL 21, 1932

Adverse stars have a strong influence today, according to astrology. It is a time for cautious preparation for future contingencies.

Workers of every sort are forecast, since the spirit of fairplay regarding unemployment may be strong. Neptune is in a place read as favorable to the navy and its officers. Much activity in expanding its strength is again prophesied. This should be an auspicious day for mercantile interests of every sort and profitable to the owners of small shops. Because history often repeats itself the years command respectful hearing when they foretell the return of success through humble beginnings and insignificant investments. In the coming summer great interest in mines and mining is indicated and both gold and silver discoveries will bring prosperity in certain sections. Caution in real estate deals is recommended at this time, when the inclination to sacrifice property should be resisted. Fashions now come under a rule making for decided contrasts from the severely plain to the much decorated. While the young are to indulge in extreme modes for sports their elders will return to the fashions of long ago and will emphasize the excessively feminine frilleries, astrologers predict. This should be a favorable way for household activities, including interior decorating and furniture changes. Persons whose birthdate it is have the anxiety of a year of rather unsettled conditions in which disputes should be persistently avoided. Children born on this day probably will be intelligent and clever. Many subjects of this sign are high-tempered and yet diplomatic. Those who have celebrated it as a birthday include Henry Wheeler Shaw (died 1892), 1818, humorist; Alexander Anderson, 1740, early wood-engraver; F. Froebel, 1782, kindergarten pioneer. Chicago, April 20.—The legislative campaign for a new method of crop surplus control—the domestic allotment plan—was launched yesterday by agriculturists and farm economists. This plan, designed to make the tariff walls effective on agricultural commodities, is built around the allotment to producers of marketing rights for domestic needs. It has been proposed for first adoption in marketing cotton and wheat. The allotment certificates under the plan, would be worth the tariff, wheat being forty-two cents. These would be taken up by the processors. The price of the control would be placed on the product, as in the case of duties of merchandise. County Antrim, Irish Free State, has a milk war.

ECONOMY attracted me to this Tooth Paste RESULTS held me

"When the depression came along, and every penny counted, I began checking up on what our small necessities cost us. Eventually I came to tooth paste and had some misgivings about changing from our regular 50¢ dentifrice to a less expensive brand. I had heard quite a few of the girls at the club tell how pleased they were with the way their teeth looked since they began using Listerine Tooth Paste. I decided to give it a trial.

"After using this tooth paste for a few weeks both John and myself were delighted with the improvement in the appearance of our teeth. In addition the children liked the taste of Listerine Tooth Paste so well that they actually looked forward to brushing their teeth with it."

This dentifrice contains a special polishing agent which wipes off tartar, tobacco stains, or any other discolorations in record time. Yet Listerine Tooth Paste is so gentle in action that it will not mar the most delicate of tooth enamel.

A tooth paste must be good to be able to win and hold over 4,000,000 people in the short period of a few years.

Savings Cut Cost to You

In order to supply this huge demand we operate on a large cost-cutting scale, using the most modern methods of manufacture and distribution. That is why we are able to offer the consumer such a quality dentifrice at such an unusually low price.

NEW AREAS OPEN FOR PROSPECTORS

Reserves Lifted Following
Legislation Passed at Recent Session

Legislation passed at the recent session of the B.C. Legislature has been followed up by the lifting of reserves on many coal, petroleum and natural gas areas in different parts of the province. It was announced yesterday by Hon. N. S. Loughheed, Minister of Lands.

The field for prospecting is now thrown open to parts of Vancouver Island, to the coal region north of the Canadian National Railway, known as the Ground Hog Reserve, and to the Peace River district. These fields were formerly closed by reserves. Optimism is expressed on the possible discovery of oil in the Peace River area.

"We are putting everything we have got as a province on our shelves, with an open invitation to all the prospect for coal, oil or natural gas, sure in the knowledge that if rich discoveries are made, the people of British Columbia are fully protected by existing legislation," Mr. Loughheed explained.

"Anyone in British Columbia can now stake for oil, after 120 days' notice of locating. They will pay fifty cents an acre, and will have fifteen months in which to get machinery on to the ground and get going. If they find oil we will remit half the fees. One-half of the field in any such discovery will become the property of the people of British Columbia."

Ottawa, April 20.—Colin A. Beach, president of Beach Motors Limited, Ottawa, gave evidence yesterday before the Commons committee on banking and commerce which is investigating the price of gasoline in Canada. Beach Motors Limited sold nearly 1,000,000 gallons a year, he said. At the present time the company was buying only Canadian gasoline, but had frequently purchased from the United States.

"Laid down price of gasoline in Ottawa from the United States would be about 27 cents cheaper than we pay Canadian companies were it not for the duty and the dumping duty," said Mr. Beach.

QUESTION OF SHRINKAGE
S. Coplan, owner of the Super Service Gas and Oil Company, Ottawa, was the next witness. One of the problems he was faced with was the shrinkage of gasoline with changes of temperature. Illustrative of that was the loss of 519 gallons of his purchase from the British American Oil Company during January, 1931. He had sold 519 gallons less than he had paid for and the province had fixed him on the total he had purchased, including the 519 gallons lost. Since he had been in business no allowance for shrinkage had been given by the major Canadian companies. United States companies frequently gave allowances, he said.

Dr. D. Stanley, Conservative, Calgary East, suggested the committee hear expert evidence on the temperature question.

The committee adjourned until Thursday.

URGE NEW LIMITS FOR HIGH SCHOOLS

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 20.—Junior matriculation or its equivalent as the limit of free education in city high schools is the recommendation of a special committee of the school board of Vancouver.

Equivalent to the junior matriculation course would be any four-year course which does not include any senior matriculation subjects offered in any secondary schools, or four full years' study of any high school subjects.

Students, completing their junior matriculation work in three years, or in four years, would be charged $100 a year for a full senior matriculation course in a subsequent year or for a full year's study in any other high school course or courses.

At present a student who passes junior matriculation before the age of sixteen as at June 30 in the year the examinations are passed is not required to pay for the senior matriculation course. There is no limit placed on the number of years the student may remain at high school before being required to pay fees.

The report, which was brought down as a notice of motion to be discussed at the next meeting of the school board, has been under consideration since last autumn. The new fees would apply to the coming school year.

ALPINISTS TREK IN SOOKE AREA

Eighteen members of the Vancouver Island section of the Alpine Club of Canada took part in a trek through the wild area west of the Sooke River on Sunday. Under the leadership of C. L. Harrison the trip took nearly ten hours.

The party first ascended an unnamed mountain east of Bluff Mountain. This part of the trip required three hours. Lunch was eaten at small Cougar Lake, then proceeding to Boneyard Lake. The outlet of this was followed back to the Sooke River which was reached about five miles above the mouth. The trip along the river was at first slowed by fallen trees and underbrush but the last two miles were covered over a mossy trail.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Early Dates Prove Big Handicap to Canada's Davis Cup Team

France Expected to Have Hard Time Capturing Trophy This Year

Number of New Golf Pros Become Located in Pacific Northwest

Sammy Fuller Proves Pocket Edition of Famous John L. Sullivan

CANADA'S PARTICIPATION in the Davis Cup tennis series is already a topic of discussion. The very early dates of April 28, 29 and 30 when the Canadians are set to meet the United States does not seem to give the Canadians even an equal chance. As it stands at the present time, if they are to have a chance of winning, they will have to practice or play outdoors before the matches and this will naturally be a decided handicap, which does not seem right as there appears to be no paramount reason for the advancement of the dates to so early in the season.

The Canadian team will be the same as in 1931, and there is no doubt that Dr. Jack Wright, Marcel Rainville, Gilbert Nunn and Walter Martin are the worthy representatives. Their chances of making a showing, however, will be severely handicapped by the early dates of the tournament as it will be practically impossible for them to be in shape when they are to play. The series will be played at the Chevy Chase Club, Washington.

France as defending champions do not appear strong enough to retain the cup. The recent announcement of Jean Borotra stating that he was retiring from Davis Cup play comes as a severe blow to his country's hopes. Borotra, termed the "Bouncing Basque," has a fine record in international and Davis Cup competition. He states, however, that his business interests make it exceedingly difficult for him to give time to properly prepare for the tennis tournaments, so that in justice to himself and his country he has decided to retire. Christian Bousquet, his left-handed doubles partner, or Antoine Gentien will most likely take his place with the possible chance that Rene Lacoste will return to play. If Lacoste returns it is possible Borotra will change his mind and then the "Four Musketeers" will again be the French representation.

The Japanese Lawn Tennis Association have named Jiro Sato, Ryuki Miki and Takao Kuwana to represent that country. Sato is the only one of the three with Davis Cup experience. Jack Crawford, H. O. Hopman and C. Sproule have been selected to represent Australia. They will meet Cuba in the first match in the North American zone, the winner to meet the winner of the upper half. The United States is paired with Canada, the winner to play Mexico for the right to enter the zone final against Cuba or Australia. Naturally England and the United States are favored to meet for the right to oppose France in the final round.

During the last few weeks several golf pros have located themselves in new berths in the Pacific Northwest. One of the most important changes came about at the Columbia Country Club, Portland, when Al Zimmerman, holder of the Pacific Northwest open title, was signed to fill the berth that was vacated when Mel Smith resigned to take over a similar berth at the Lake Oswego Country Club, Portland. Zimmerman's new tutor is the late Muttomah Golf Club, Portland, where he was assistant to Professional Boyd Bustard. A fine young chap and grand golfer is Zimmerman. Martin Watson was also Smith's predecessor at Lake Oswego. Martin is now conducting an indoor golf school at the Washington Athletic Club in Seattle.

Verne Perry, professional at the Clark County Country Club, Vancouver, during the last few years, is now handling the managerial reins at the Peninsula Golf Club, Portland. Verne's successor at the Clark County Country Club is expected to be announced shortly. Aside from engaging a new manager, Peninsula has a new professional, namely, Landis Crump, late of the La Grande Country Club, Bob Duncan, formerly assistant at the Overlake Golf Club, Seattle, has taken over the La Grande berth. Jimmy Johnson has been engaged to attend to the professional duties at the Allamore Golf Club, Tacoma, while Al Soberg, a recent arrival from Detroit, is now professional-in-charge at the Willowbrook Golf Club, Ellensburg, where Jimmy was formerly employed. Alex Simpson, professional during the last year or so at the Glendale Golf and Country Club, Seattle, has returned to his former berth, the Monah Lake Golf Club, Monah Lake, Uster County, New York. His successor at Glendale is expected to be appointed very shortly.

The shade of colorful John L. Sullivan, burly heavyweight fighter of days long passed, stalks in miniature through America's prize rings once more. For in Sammy Fuller, lightweight contender, Boston's "Red" Smith, "Red" Smith, battling in the ring was who is a pocket edition of the original and raging John L. Barbell-chested and with arms thick as a 200-pounder's, little five-foot-three Sammy brings back those days when men fought for the sake of fighting, when a pot of gold wasn't the sole incentive to desperate combat. Hairy, and muscled like a wrestler, the saved-off Boston Italian looks like a cave-man, until he leaps into action.

CLOGHEEN WINS EPSOM FEATURE

Mrs. C. Jones's Four-year-old Captures City and Suburban Handicap To-day

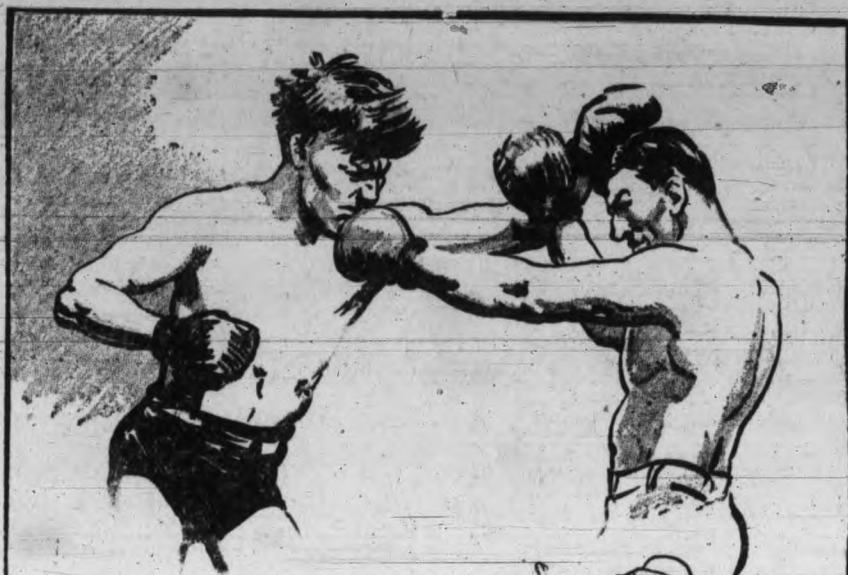

Epsom Downs, Eng., April 20.—Mrs. C. Jones's four-year-old Clogheen, carrying 102 pounds, and ridden by Clifford Richards, today won the City and Suburban, great spring handicap, for four-year-olds from H. Eve's four-year-old Venture, ridden by Jockey Ray and carrying 114 pounds. Only a head back of Venture in third place came T. Davidson's four-year-old Wildson, ridden by Birma and carrying 108 pounds.

Clogheen, bay colt by Tetraena out of Leverock, started at odds of twenty to one. Venture at eleven to two and Wildson at twenty-five to one. Sixteen horses faced over the mile and a quarter course in the renewal of the Epsom feature first run in 1851.

WRESTLING CLASS
The weekly wrestling class at the Tillicum gym has been changed from Wednesday to Thursday evening. A local amateur boxing card is being arranged and all those wishing to take part are asked to be at the gym Tuesday night at 7.30 o'clock.

Then you see speed, liveness, boxing skill and uncanny punching ability unexpected in a man of his build. He has beaten Ray Miller, knocked out the veteran Billy Wallace and just the other night gained a draw with Jackie (Kid) Berg, "The Whitechapel Whirlwind." England's most famous fighter, he is pointing now for Billy Petrus and later the lightweight champion, Tony Canzoneri, whom he beat on points before Tony was champion.

Ball Clubs Prepare For Season Opening

Victoria Senior Amateur League Teams Expected to Usher in Season May 14

Unsettled Weather Holds Up Practices; Loop Not Affiliated Yet With B.C. Body

With work to commence immediately on the moving of the "new" grandstand at the Royal Athletic Park to a location near the site of the old stand, which will be torn down, senior amateur baseball moguls are going ahead with plans for the opening of the season. It was stated today the opening game between the Elks, last year's champions, and the Sons of Canada, would probably be held on Saturday, May 14.

The opening date all hinges on whether or not the grounds and stand will be ready by that time. The league had originally intended to usher in the season on May 7 but the first game was setback after it was found the grounds would not be ready in time. In the meantime the managers of the four teams, Elks, Sons, Tillicum and Green Mill are trying to get their players in shape for the start of the season.

Practices have been held up owing to the unsettled weather but it is expected all the clubs will be ready by the opening of the season.

Defeating the Coach Lines and Modern Shoe in a play-off at the Olympic Alley yesterday evening the Elks won the right to meet the winners of the section A and B play-offs in the final for the Commercial Tropic League title. The lodgements rolled 2,823, the Coach Lines 2,764, and Modern Shoe 2,654. The final will be played next Tuesday evening.

"Y" WRESTLERS TO BE GIVEN AWARDS

Club championship certificates will be presented to leading wrestlers of the Y.M.C.A. by Alderman W. T. Straith at the club's final supper rally in the tillicum hall at 7.30 o'clock. Inspirational talks will be given by Walter S. Maguire, general secretary of the association, and George Lovatt, coach of the club.

The gathering will be in the form of a social evening at which local artists will perform.

Reference will be made to the record of the club in Portland and New Westminster, where the Victorians put up exceptionally fine showings.

OLYMPIC HOME IS COMPLETED

550 Houses Erected at Los Angeles For Accommodation Of World Athletes

Los Angeles, April 20.—Like the ghost towns of the old gold rush days in California, there has grown in the Baldwin Hills near here a cluster of 550 houses in less than three weeks. It is the Olympic village, where some 2,000 of the world's picked athletes will live for a few weeks this summer.

The last of the houses was erected today. In a short time workmen will build a 600-foot administration building and several large kitchens and dining-rooms in which food to the tastes of healthy manhood from fifty nations will be served.

From early July until the middle of August this town will bustle with activity. Then, almost overnight, it will be torn down to leave barren again the plot of more than 300 acres which once was a part of the Lucky Baldwin estate.

CROSSLEY AND BARTELL LEAD
Boston Riders Set Pace in Montreal Six-day Race; Peden and Audy Second

Montreal, April 20.—With nearly 1,000 miles of the long grind behind them, Al Crossley and Frank Bartell, Boston, were leading the field in the six-day bicycle race here at 8 a.m. today. Their point total was 133. One lap behind were "Torchy" Peden, Victoria, and Jules Audy, Montreal, the team favored to win the race.

Horace Horan, New York, was injured in a spill, but he and his partner, Reggie McNamara, also of New York, were still pedalling away in fourth place early today. Tied for leadership in both distance and sprints points at 9 o'clock yesterday evening were "Polly" Parrott, Victoria, and Fred East, Victoria. Quire, reconstructed team, and Reggie Fielding, Toronto, and Van Slambrouck, Belgium, each with a distance of 778 miles, four laps and fifty-four sprints points.

Three teams, including two of those considered the strongest in the race, were grouped in third position. They were Peden and Audy, McNamara and Horan, and Stubecke and Decker. The balance of the field was level in distance, a single lap behind the third-place teams.

Detroit Tigers Prove Sensation of Major Baseball

Fine Pitching and Hitting Puts Club Into Top Position

With His Pitchers Coming Through With Best Performance in Either League and the Whole Team Hitting the Ball, Manager "Bucky" Harris Has His Club in Tie for Lead in American League With Washington; Latter Take Athletics for Another Ride; Giants Pushed Farther Into National League Cellar

After two lean years, in which he experimented right and left and practically rebuilt from the ground up, Manager "Bucky" Harris appears at last to have hit on a pretty slick combination at Detroit.

Tied with Washington for the leadership of the American league after winning five of their first seven starts at home, the Tigers easily qualify as the sensations of the early going. It is doubtful if even Harris expects them to stay at the top but, even so, the former "boy manager" can report progress.

So far the Tigers have enjoyed the most pitching in either league from Earl Whitehill, Vic Sorrell, George Fhle and Whitlow Wyatt, and their hitting has been both hard and timely. One of their two defeats last week was charged to Sorrell on Sunday when he allowed St. Louis Browns only three hits.

Right Fielder Roy Johnson has supplied the big batting punch so far with fourteen hits in thirty-two trips for an average of .438, but the club has been sitting right down the line. Charlie Gehringer, whose bat has been a potent factor in almost every game, drove three runs across with a double and triple yesterday as the Tigers made it three out of four from the Browns, 8 to 0. Whitehill, turning in his second victory, kept six hits well spaced.

Terry clouted two home runs, tying the score in the ninth with his second, and drove in the final run with a triple in the thirteenth, and Critz made five hits in six times up. The Braves combined fourteen hits off Walker Luque and Hubbell with three Giants' errors to tally eight times.
Wally Berger drove in the winning runs with a triple after Maranville reached first on a force out and Worthington had doubled.

Benge allowed only five hits, not more than one in any inning, and lost a shutout by throwing a home run ball to Glenn Wright after he had walked Boone in the sixth inning.
Wally Hoyt was tagged for seven hits and five runs in the first five innings. Joe Shaute, who followed him, was driven from the hill in the eighth and Jack Quinn, third baseman, also was hit hard. Pinky Whitey and George Davis led the Philly attack with three hits apiece.

HOW TO BUY A SHIRT

If you're fed up with buying your shirts a size too big, so they may shrink to fit you (but usually shrink to choke you)....

Or if you think some shirt-makers deliberately put something in the collars to make them curl up like a pair of tucks....

Or had the maddening experience of sleeves shrinking until they resembled those of a polo shirt....

Step in and buy an Arrow Shirt. Enjoy the beautiful fit and styling of the collar, and the finished tailoring throughout. Wheat Prices Dip Fractionally With Closing Tone Weak Winnipeg, April 20.—Laggard action of overseas wheat purchasers and the urge to take profits sent wheat prices into a fractional decline in the grain pit Monday. Values at the close were 1/4 to 1/2 lower for the day.

May finished 1/4 lower at 63; July 1/4 to 1/2 lower at 65; while October eased 1/4 to close at 67 1/2.

Opening practically unchanged from the previous close, trade throughout the morning session was extremely light. A flurry of selling around mid-session by traders anxious to take profits caused a slight dip in prices which was added to near the close when low levels were reached.

Slight improvement was noted in the demand for cash wheat and coarse grains, but prices in these commodities showed little change. Trading was light.

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG
(By Logan & Bryan)
Winnipeg, April 20.—Wheat: Market was a tame affair today with little or nothing of feature going on. Trade being largely local with spreading operations. At the start continental houses were moderate buyers and this apparently took the slack out of the market, but prices after an indifferent opening declined 1/4 in sympathy with a decline in Chicago by early wheat and corn, the latter being the main influence.

Outside of the early buying by the continental houses outside interest was very small and very little overnight export sales were reported or were in evidence. Commission houses were more or less on the buying side, and with a little short covering by early sellers caused some small reactions but the upturn was difficult to hold.

The local cash market remains quiet, which is rather surprising with the navigation about to open. There are some boats on the way up to the head of the lakes, but the tonnage engaged is said to be small, and it is probably in the history of the trade freight. Rates are reported as being very low, but shippers are not anxious to move wheat about unchanged. The rains in the southwest, while to late for the acreage dead, will halt damage that was being done by dry and crusted top soil. What damages acreage will show cannot be very well determined for two weeks to come. Country marketings in the Canadian west Tuesday were 365,000 bu., 394,000 a year ago.

Winnipeg closed 1/4 to 1/2 lower.

COAST GRAINS—These markets were weakly active, being rather narrow. The weakness in wheat and corn gave the coast grains a little easier tone, but offerings were very light with following the trend of the grain market.

Oats closed 1/4 to 1/2 lower, barley unchanged to 1/4 lower and rye 1/4 to 1/2 lower.

LIVERPOOL due 1/4 lower on Winnipeg.

BALBO PLANNING NORTHERN ROUTE

Italian Air Minister Sends Capt. Mario Recagno to Greenland to Investigate.

fleet of Thirty Seaplanes Likely to Be Sent to North America

Canadian Press

New York, April 20.—The New York Times to-day published the following special cable from Rome: Gen. Italo Balbo, Air Minister, has sent Capt. Mario Recagno on a special mission to Greenland to investigate the possibility of passing that way en route to North America with a considerable number of seaplanes.

"Capt. Recagno will not only report on general climatic conditions, the most favorable months for flying, prevailing winds, usual temperatures and so forth, but also on the possibility of finding shelter in the harbors and fueling facilities for a large number of planes. He recently returned from a similar mission to the Aleutian Islands."

"Capt. Recagno's investigations are being linked with the intention announced by Gen. Balbo immediately after his successful formation flight to South America to undertake an even more extensive flight with about thirty machines in the near future."

"The first plan was to fly to New York by way of the Azores and Bermuda. Later the possibility of a round-the-world flight was mentioned, the preparations going as far as the sending of Capt. Recagno to the Aleutian Islands. The difficulties encountered were enormous, however, especially in the matter of refueling thirty large seaplanes, and the latest intention appears to be to limit the flight to New York by way of Iceland, Greenland and Labrador."

Flight-Lieut. A. L. Morphes Here To-day With Fairchild Seaplane

Capt. Don R. MacLaren, Canadian Airways Manager, Arranging Passenger Service

With Flight-Lieut. A. L. Morphes at the controls, a yellow Fairchild seaplane from the Jericho, Beach station in Vancouver, made a pretty landing in the Inner Harbor this morning and taxied to a mooring alongside the mail float in front of the Parliament Buildings.

The plane is powered by a Wasp engine of 425 horsepower and is a neat looking parcel of aerial gear. Flight-Lieut. Morphes has previously been engaged in government aerial survey work along the Coast and he expects to do more of it this summer. Following his arrival in Victoria to-day the air officer conferred with H. D. Parizeau, chief of the hydrographic survey service on the B.C. Coast, but the nature of the conference was not disclosed.

TESTS AT ESQUIMALT

It is reported in the city that landing and taking-off tests will shortly be made in Esquimalt Harbor, which has been designated by the federal government as the most suitable site for Victoria's airport for seaplanes.

The regular aerial passenger service of the Canadian Airways is scheduled to commence between Vancouver and Victoria on May 1. Capt. Don R. MacLaren, superintendent for the Canadian Airways, is at the Empress Hotel to-day in connection with terminal arrangements.

Up to the close of aerial navigation with passenger planes on the trans-gulf route last season the ships of the Canadian Airways used the Inner Harbor for landing purposes. Esquimalt, it is claimed, is too far removed from the centre of the city for the landing of passengers.

It remains to be seen whether the government will continue to permit the Inner Harbor landing stage to be used by commercial planes.

Delivery To Stores Planned By Rail Heads

New York, April 20.—That United States railroads have not dropped the idea of introducing a system of store door delivery, and in fact are still considering final solution of the question, was indicated by J. W. Roberts, assistant vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, in addressing the American Fruit and Vegetable Shippers' Association here last week.

He said that competition of motor truck services was one thing that had forced railroads into a position where they found it necessary to introduce such a system.

"I may add, as an individual, I have always been in favor of store door delivery and felt that it would be a constructive step in the progress of transportation," Mr. Roberts said.

"However, the problems of putting it into effect are not as yet entirely solved, although the principal features of a tentative plan have been worked out between the railroads and the shippers and receivers of freight in New York City. The plan is that now stands is limited to carload shipments, inbound and outbound, at points in the boroughs of Manhattan, the Bronx, Brooklyn and Queens."

SEA LION WITHDRAWN SEAL PATROL

Fishing Interests of U.S. Suggest Abandonment of Protection During Migration

B.C. Fishermen Urge Continuance of Sea Lion Hunt Off This Coast

With the seal herds now off the Pacific Coast on the annual migration to the northern rookeries, rumors are gaining currency to the effect that the fur seal patrol may be withdrawn, possibly after the present season.

As in former years Canadian vessels are operating in conjunction with the United States coastguard this season to guard the migrating herds heading north.

The Biological Board of Canada, it is reported, is investigating a suggestion made in the United States that protection for the migrating herds be withdrawn. Fishing interests in the United States declare that multitudes of protected seals destroy a huge number of salmon and other edible fish. With fur seal prices as low as they now are, the revenue from the restricted kill in the northern rookeries can not begin to pay the cost of the international patrol, let alone cover the loss suffered among the fish, the fishing men say.

The Dominion Government's attention has been drawn to this phase of the matter, and the biological board is investigating to ascertain what the seals live on, and if they are depleting the fisheries to any serious extent.

Prices of fur seal hides are very low. Not many years ago the hunter received about $20 per hide. Last year one could buy fur seal skins on west coast of Vancouver Island at $3 and $3.50, and the price is said to be even lower.

SEA LION HUNT

British Columbia fishing interests are urging the Dominion Government to continue the annual sea lion hunt off the Queen Charlotte Sound rookeries. There has been a report that the government is in the interest of economy, might not send out the June expedition of machine gunners and sharpshooters against the teeming herds of the rookeries.

Fishermen claim that the sea lions not only destroy vast numbers of salmon, but also destroy thousands of dollars' worth of nets each year.

Cunard Official Says Lower Passenger Fares Are One Year Too Late

Increased competition in transatlantic passenger trade was predicted by Sir Percy Bates, chairman of the board of the Cunard Steamship Company, in his address at the annual meeting in London. Drastic reduction of passenger fares, he said, came a year too late and will probably have the effect of reducing revenues of the Cunard line and other companies in the trade.

The deficit of $553,000 shown in the annual report of the company for the year 1931 was chiefly due to immigration restrictions increased foreign competition and new tariffs.

Referring to the cessation of work on the new 73,000-ton liner at Clyde bank, Sir Percy said he was unable to say when construction might be resumed, but said it would be as soon as the directors could see their way clear to provide the necessary financial support.

FIRST SHIP AT MONTREAL

C.P.R. Freighter Beaverburn Opens 1932 Navigation Season on St. Lawrence

Vancouver, April 20.—Capt. E. Landy, who took the Canadian Pacific freighter Beaverburn into Montreal Monday, officially opening the 1932 navigation season on the St. Lawrence, has set something of a record for an early opening, according to Capt. E. Alkman, general superintendent of the Canadian Pacific steamships on the Pacific.

Since the war two commanders of Canadian Pacific freighters have opened the navigation into Montreal. One of them is Capt. Landy and the other is Capt. Alkman, who commanded the Bolingbroke when the ship opened navigation into the Quebec metropolis on May 3, 1923.

"Opening of navigation on the St. Lawrence is fifteen days earlier this year than when my ship opened it in 1923," Capt. Alkman said. "I do not remember any earlier opening and it must have been an unusually mild and open winter."

Soon after her arrival at Esquimalt the Skeena will be temporarily withdrawn from service for drydocking and refit. The destroyer was a short time ago in Central American waters and is in need of overhaul.

CRUISER TO PATROL
No word has yet been received at Esquimalt regarding the unit of the British naval squadron which will this year be detached from the West Indies station at Bermuda for the North Pacific annual patrol. Each year a vessel of this fleet makes for cruise out here via the Panama Canal.

It is possible that the Dragon, which is now on her way back to Bermuda from St. John's, Newfoundland, may be selected for the Pacific cruise.

In view of that, some adjustments will probably be required in relation to personnel. No action, however, has yet been taken in that respect.

CLOSE ESCAPE OFF COCOS ISLE

Two Members of Treasure Hunting Expedition Had Narrow Escape From Drowning

Col. J. E. Leckie Reports That Metalaphone Is Doing Interesting Work

Vancouver, April 20.—Two Vancouver men, Michael J. Hannigan and R. D. Taylor, had a narrow escape from drowning in the breakers off Cocos Island, according to a wire received by J. G. Turgeon from Col. J. E. Leckie, leader of the treasure-hunting expedition.

Only a terse explanation of the accident is contained in Colonel Leckie's message. It is as follows: "Our boat coming from ship was wrecked by big comber at about 3 p.m. Hannigan and Taylor stayed with it until forced overboard by heavy seas. They swam ashore exhausted, at 6 a.m. Taylor, who is aged about twenty-six, boarded at 1736 West Third while living here. Taylor's home is at 3976 West Third."

Everything is progressing satisfactorily, according to Colonel Leckie. "All well, metalaphone doing very interesting work," his wire read.

Development of Disease Resistance in Plants of Great Value, Club Told

Thousands of dollars have been saved for agriculturists by the work of scientists who determine the best methods of resisting diseases to plants and agricultural produce, W. R. Foster, of the Sidney Experimental Farm, told members of the Round Table Club at their dinner meeting yesterday evening.

In the creation of a type of wheat which resists rust and other blights, immense sums have been saved, the speaker said.

He referred to the excellent activities of research men on Vancouver Island in this regard, stating that the Sterling pea, developed at Sidney, was awarded the world championship in a recent show in Chicago.

Many other varieties developed on the island had taken the order of merit of the Royal Society.

In some detail he described the Mendelian theory and traced its application in Marquis wheat.

Much greater improvement had been noted through the application of rules of heredity in the plant world than in the animal kingdom, the speaker said.

He gave, in some detail, an account of the hybridizing process by which plants were raised with a view to disease resistance.

In conclusion he reviewed the efforts being made to assist those engaged in the work.

R. H. Edgell, five-minute speaker, dealt with "The Coming Economic Conference at Ottawa and Events Which Are Leading Up to It."

No Rich Left, Schwab Moans

New York, April 20.—Charles M. Schwab, steelmaker, "gazes around the economic scene and finds the rich have vanished."

"There are no rich in America to-day," he said to the Pennsylvania Society yesterday. "They don't know where they stand. The highest type of riches as personified in this country to-day has practically vanished and men are afraid to look at their ledgers to see if they are worth anything or not."

He said "sweet" was the remedy for the present economic conditions and reiterated his belief that "things will ultimately be all right."

Mr. Schwab, chairman of Bethlehem Steel, was re-elected president of the Pennsylvania Society.

London Postie Saves Pennies To Endow Leper-cure Ward

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times is the only English nurse at Dayapuram.

London.—British people are also struggling against another fearful disease, leprosy, and there are many stories to be told of personal sacrifices in this cause. One of them is that of a retired London postmaster, Francis Cardinal. He saved £250 out of his weekly wages to endow a ward four years ago at the Dayapuram Leprosy Asylum, Madras. Now he is paying another visit to India to cut the first sod of the Reverend Arthur Stanton Memorial Well at Manimadurai.

Mr. Cardinal, who has been welcomed most enthusiastically by the hundreds of lepers whom he has helped, made the journey of 6,000 miles at his own expense.

Then there is Mrs. Ruby Beresford Trafford who, since the Great War, has devoted her life to the lepers. Mrs. Trafford, who is the widowed daughter of the late Colonel William Lock, C.B.E.,

Relief of large numbers of lepers now comes from the use of the ancient Indian chaulmoogra oil remedy. This was explained, at a meeting organized by the London Missionary Society, by Sir Leonard Rogers, who has done so much to help lepers in all countries. He estimates the total number of lepers as over 3,000,000.

Sir Leonard himself, with the aid of an Indian chemist, perfected the use of the chaulmoogra oil remedy. Early cases can now be cleaned, largely by this treatment, which even has a beneficial effect on the great majority of the more advanced cases.

The British Empire Leprosy Relief Association, Sir Leonard reported, sent 750,000 doses of the newest preparation of hydnocarpus oil out to the colonies last year.

No Love Interest, British Bar Film Of Kamet Feats

London.—The film record of the British Himalayan expedition's ascent of Mount Kamet, 25,447 feet, the highest summit reached by man, has been rejected for lack of a plot and "love interest."

Experts described the film as technically perfect, including some superb mountain photography. It shows every phase of the expedition, including shots on Kamet's summit, the highest movies ever taken, exceeding by more than 2,000 feet Captain Noel's on Mount Everest. It also shows conditions of life under difficult and exacting circumstances, and means and methods of climbing the world's highest mountains.

Yet, according to F. S. Smythe, leader of the expedition, when the film was offered in various film markets, the expedition was informed that the British public was not interested in such films.

"Indeed, in one case," said Smythe in a letter to The London Times, "the expedition was informed that it was a pity there was no plot and that the film would have been improved by the addition of a love interest. It would be interesting to know whether these sentiments really express the requirements of the British public. Whether they do or not, it is certain that no British Himalayan expedition in future will go to the expense of bringing back to this country the record of their work, and in the future the film-going public will have to subsist solely on the make-believe of Elstree and Hollywood."

It was hoped the proceeds of the film would go toward defraying the expedition's expenses.
